E. Furnace Co. 77-Day-Old Strike Settled

Workers Get Pension, Insurance Benefits; Return To Jobs Set

Pickets were removed from the Electric Furnace Co. entrances at midnight Thursday, signalling the end of the 77-day-old strike of 120 operational workers.

The pickets were recalled following the ratification at a meeting last night by the local membership of United Steelworkers of America of a compromise agreement reached by the company and union negotiating committees.

Agreement Terms Released

Terms of the agreement were released today in a joint statement signed by Paul Evans, union staff representative, and Richard Coe, company vice president.

The settlement consists of an insurance and pension package comparable to that now in effect in the basic steel industry. The exact cost of the package is indefinite at the present time due to uncertainties in insurance costs and the funding of pensions, but it will amount to at least five cents per hour, according to the estimates of both parties.

$140 Minimum Pension

The pension agreement provides a minimum of $140 per month for employes reaching the age of 65 and having 30 years of service, with an additional stipulation that the higher pension rates will also be extended to those employes who have previously retired.

With recent improvements in the Social Security program, employes retired with 30 years of service will receive minimum pensions of $153.50 per month.

The new insurance and hospitalization plan also constitutes a considerable improvement over the current program.

Became Effective Wednesday

All provisions of the new aggreement became effective Wednsday.

Company officials said employes will be recalled on a basis of seniority and ability to perform available work. It is expected that approximately 50 employes will have been recalled by Thursday, and others on a day-to-day basis as needed.

The strike began at midnight on Sept. 30 after the company had refused union demands for an approximate seven-cent-an-hour wage and fringe benefit increase. The company had asked that the old contract be renewed without change for one year.

Hearings Set For Boys In Morals Case

Twenty-eight youths who have admitted visiting the apartment of a wealthy Salem bachelor, accused of sexual deviations, will receive hearings Monday, Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin said today.

The youths, involved in a case charging Francis M. Wick, 48, of S. Ellsworth Ave. of contributing to their delinquency, will each appear before the judge separately and in closed chambers.

Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke said eight of the defendants are 18 to 20 years old. The other twenty youths range from 14-18.

Judge Tobin said the oldest will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, since they allegedly participated in unlawful sex acts in the presence of the younger boys.

Earlier authorities believed as many as 50 youths were connected with the case, but investigations showed that many of those implicated were not at fault.

Wick, operator of a small farm implement manufacturing business, is at Massillon State Hospital for a month's observation.

Jap Pottery Imports Strangle U. S. Business, Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japanese competition since the war has "practically strangled" the American chinaware business, a domestic industry spokesman told the tariff commission today.

J. J. Stein said in a prepared brief the American industry flatly opposes any attempt to reduce tariffs on Japanese chinaware imports.

Stein is secretary-manager of the California Pottery Guild of Los Angeles, whose membership produces about 95 per cent of the earthen and chinaware made in California.

Urge Pottery Tariffs

He was one of a number of industry spokesmen appearing today before the commission to urge that tariffs on imported pottery—chiefly from Japan—be left at their present level.

The commission and the committee for reciprocity information are preparing a report for use at a February conference in Geneva, Switzerland, concerning the possible reduction of certain tariffs on goods imported by the United States from Japan and other countries.

Wages Lower Than U.S.

It was Stein's contention that the Japanese industry is able to undersell American manufacturers because its wages are about one-tenth those of the domestic industry.

Other industry spokesmen scheduled to testify before the commission were: Joseph M. Wells, president of the Homer Laughlin China Co., East Liverpool, Ohio; R. H. Pass, president, and E. L. Torbert, vice president, Onandaga Pottery Co., Syracuse, N. Y.; and Frank Hull of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters of Toledo, Ohio.

Boy Scout Camp Lease Is Approved

The lease for a portion of the Leesville Lake area in Carroll County for use of Boy Scouts of the Columbiana County Council was approved Thursday night by the executive board at Camp McKinley.

Signing will depend on locating a healthy water supply, Ross Ludwig, scout executive said.

A building of a road leading into the woodland tract will begin Monday, under the supervision of Richard Broomall, Salem construction engineer, and Fred Johnson of Summitville. Ludwig said the well will be drilled when the road is completed.

Other members of the executive staff were delegated duties last night. Arthur Smith of Salem will be responsible for electrical work and well drilling. Archie Bricker and Francis McNicol of Salem will be in charge of surveying.

Gail Herron of Salem and Bricker, building design; John Pinney of Chester, W. Va., building locations; Broomall, building construction.

Eugene Molenaur, field executive preparing the beach with Explorer Scouts assisting; Ludwig, coordinating work with the national Boy Scout Engineering Service; and Russell Barrow of Columbiana, coordinator of all work divisions.

Ludwig said the board expects to have the camp ready for activities this summer.

Red China Willing To Receive U.N. Envoy; May Not Discuss 11 Airmen

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai said today he will receive U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in Peiping—but left in doubt just how far he will go in discussing the 11 imprisoned American airmen.

Chou sent two communications to the United Nations. One denounced again the U.N. resolution of Dec. 10 which instructed Hammarskjold to seek release of the imprisoned airmen. The other contained acceptance of Hammarskjold's proposal for a meeting with Chou.

The second communication, as broadcast from Peiping, said:

"Regarding the United States spies mentioned in your cable, our position has been set forth in my other cable addressed to you.

"In the interests of peace and relaxation of international tension, I am prepared to receive you in our capital Peiping to discuss with you pertinent questions."

This seemed to say Red China had settled the case of the fliers, but was ready to talk about other things. These latter might include the question of seating Red China in the United Nations—a question the U.N. General Assembly at its opening session this year decided to shelve for the remainder of the year.

Red China stands as a convicted aggressor before the U.N., because of its action in the Korean War, and also stands condemned for its action in holding the American fliers. Nevertheless, Hammarskjold was instructed by the General Assembly to see what he could do about releasing the Americans, and he decided to make a trip to Peiping if Red China would invite him.

He now has the invitation. There is some doubt whether he would be willing to discuss with Peiping any questions not covered in his original request—that is, the flier's case. But obviously if he goes to Peiping, as he undoubtedly will, he would accept any communication the Red China regime desired to send to the United Nations.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, a spokesman said no message had been received from Peiping but in the light of past experience it could be expected later today.

As heard here, the broadcast said Chou cabled the U.N. secretary general to "please decide for yourself the date of your visit." In his cable to Chou last Friday, Hammarskjold had suggested they meet "soon after Dec. 26."

The spokesman at the U.N. said until Chou's cable was in hand there could be no announcement of Hammarskjold's plans.

It was expected, however, that he would go ahead with previous plans to fly to Sweden tonight for the weekend and, after returning

Blythin Gives Jury 5 Possible Verdicts In Case

Jurors Receive Case At 10:13 a.m., Begin Deliberations

CLEVELAND (AP)—A jury in Common Pleas Court today began deliberating the fate of Dr. Sam Sheppard, the 30-year-old osteopath who is charged with bludgeoning to death his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31.

The jury received the case at 10:13 a.m., EST.

Judge Edward Blythin delivered a 36-minute charge to the jury in which he gave them five possible verdicts in the charge of murder.

The five possible verdicts are:

1. Guilty of first-dgree murder without recommendation of mercy, which carries a mandatory death sentence.

2. Guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy; the penalty in this decision is mandatory life imprisonment. But, after 20 years, the State Pardon and Parole Commission must review the case to determine whether the sentence should be commuted. If the commission so rcommends, the governor may commute the If the commission so recommends, sentence, that makes the convicted person iligible for parole.

3. Guilty of second-degree murder, which carries a life prison sentence with possibility of parole in 10 years.

4. Guilty of manslaughter, carrying a penalty of one to 20 years.

5. Acquittal.

During Judge Blythin's charge the seven men and five women on the jury gave him close attention.

Dr. Sheppard was seated about 12 feet away at the counsel table. He kept his eyes fixed on the jury.

After the judge was finished, he dismissed the 13th alternate juror, Mrs. Lois Mancini. She had tB Mrs. Lois Mancini. She had sat throughout the nine weeks of the trial, ready in event of illness or death to take the place of one of the regular jurors.

Judge Blythin thanked her for

Asks 3 Additional Salem Policemen

McConnor Also Urges Chiefs' Salary Hikes

Appearing before the safety committee of City Council las tnight, Dr. R. J. McConnor, new city safety director, requested that Council authorize the hiring of three additional city policemen and increase the salaries of the police and fire chief.

Quoting figures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, McConnor said that the city should have a 12-man police force instead of the existing nine-man complement. At present the department is comprised of seven patrolmen, Captain Howard Forney and Chief George Earley.

Under the proposed set-up there would be two additional patrolmen, and a lieutenant to be in charge of the second night shift.

Dr. McConnor said that despite the responsibilities of Earley and Fire Chief Clarence Wright, their annual salary of $4,800 is only $50 a month more than the lowest paid man in either department.

e asked that their pay be boosted to $6,000 a year.

In other action, the committee voted to ban left turns from State St. onto Broadway and decided to initiate action to make N. Broadway a two-way street. At present it is open only to southbound traffic.

Two Traffic Mishaps Reported In City

Cars driven by William E. Shive of Lisbon and Frank Wolford of RD 2, Columbiana collided at 10:05 a.m. Thursday at the intersection of Wilson and Newgarden Streets, causing some damage to each car, police reported today.

Charles Dimko of 483 Mill St. said an unidentified vehicle struck and damaged his car sometime on Wednesday night while it was parked in front of his home.

Second Juvenile Jury Tries Boy, 16, On Traffic Violation

LISBON — A juvenile traffic jury of seven boys and three girls deliberated 40 minutes Thursday before convicting a 16-year-old Salem area boy of driving left of center.

A pupil at Goshen Township High School, the youth who was fined $10, was accused of crashing west of Salem Dec. 9.

A state highway patrolman said the boy swerved left to avoid striking a car making a right turn into a driveway, and collided headon with an auto operated by Clyde W. endershott, 30, of Salem RD 2.

This second session of the teenage jury was improved after a Lisbon attorney, Warren Bettis, volunteered to represent the defendant, upon the request of presiding Judge Louis Tobin.

At the first trials two weeks ago, the four youths charged with violations were not represented except for some help from Assistant Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, who played the dual role of counsel for the state and the defendant.

Midway in the trial, Atty. Bettis moved for a directed verdict for acquital on the basis the accident was unavoidable due to icy roads. Judge Tobin overruled the motion.

Phyllis Hively of Columbiana was juvenile jury foreman. Other jurors were Gary Calvert of East Liverpool, James Lelly of Salem, Diana Abrams of Wellsville, Thelma McCord of Lisbon, Joseph Elder of East Palestine, Clement Wolfgang of Fairfield School, Jack Schultz of New Waterford, and James Griffith and William Clark, both of Salineville.

Clark was seated when Carol Cozza, juror from Leetonia, was tardy. Alternate jurors were Janet Allen of Leetonia, Rich Zimmerman of Columbiana, Janet Reeder of Salem, Rich Smith of Fairfield, Pam Mackall of New Waterford and Harvey Robinson of Lisbon.

Judge Tobin said the Columbiana County Bar Association will supply counsel for the defendant on subsequent trial days. The next jury is scheduled to convene Jan. 6.

Canfield Man Killed As Car Strikes Tree

Frank G. Dina, 24, of Herbert Road, RD 1, Canfield was killed instantly at 2:20 a.m. today when his car struck a tree in Canfield.

Taken to Youngstown South Side Hospital, Dina was pronounced dead on arrival. He had sustained compound fractures of both legs, a broken neck, crushed skull and multiple lacerations of the body.

Canfield Police Chief Carl Payne said Dina, traveling south on Route 46, the Canfield-Niles Road, was driving at a speed estimated at about 75 miles per hour. He said Dina failed to negotiate a turn where the highway branches off into two roads which flank the park, causing his car to strike a tree in the park.

The auto was demolished.

Dina was born April 18, 1930 at Newton Falls, the son of John and Katherine Beckett Dina. Formerly of Youngstown, he had resided in Canfield for 16 years. An Army veteran, he was employed at the Sterling Lumber Co. in Canfield.

Besides his mother he leaves two brothers, George of Youngstown and Joseph of Canfield, and five sisters, Katherine, Mary Ann, Marguerite, Patricia and Veronica, all of the home.

Private funeral services will be held at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Curfew Plan May Be Revived

Wick Case Studied At Council Session

A move to get a curfew law passed was discussed when the safety and finance committees of City Council met Thursday night at City Hall.

A curfew ordinance proposal has been in the Council hopper for the past year, but has never been acted upon.

The curfew discussion came last night as the result of the recent morals case involving Francis Wick, 48, of 707 S. Ellsworth Ave., and a large group of Salem High School boys.

Wick, owner of the Industrial Shredder Co., is now in the Massillon State Hospital for a psychiatric examination ordered by Probate Judge Louis Tobin.

Disclosure was made last night by Police Chief George Earley that he had been asked by a school official to "soft-peddle" the morals case.

Mayor Dean Cranmer revealed that the request came from School Superintendent E. S. Kerr.

Clarifies Statement

In an attempt to clarify any misunderstanding, Supt. Kerr said this morning that "when I was approached on the matter I did call the chief of police and told him that since the case was entirely outside of the schools we hoped that the schools and the school student body would not be dragged into the matter. I told the chief that we were not concerned with Wick himself but that we were concerned about the boys and girls in our schools."

Abortion Conviction Of Sharp Is Upheld

The conviction of George H. Sharp, 65, a Salineville carpenter, by a Stark County common pleas court jury last April 21 on an abortion charge, has been upheld by the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

The three judges of the reviewing court affirmed the lower court conviction without a written opinion.

Sharp, who faces a prison term of one to seven years, has been at liberty under $5,000 bond pending the ruling on the appeal. He was accused of performing an illegal operation on a 17-year-old girl in the home of Mrs. Clara Fernandez of 1826 Berger Place, NE, in Canton, Feb. 3, 1953. He was found guilty by a jury of five women and seven men after deliberating an hour and 15 minutes. That was his second trial. The first ended Dec. 12, 1953 in jury disagreement.

Mrs. Fernandez, charged with aiding and abetting the abortion, was found guilty in November, 1953 and was sentenced to a term of one to seven years in the Marysville Reformatory for Women. Her conviction was upheld by the Court of Appeals and now a further appeal is before the Ohio Supreme Court where it is set for hearing Jan. 20.

GUILTY OF ASSAULTNG BOY

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence Jones, 25, was convicted yesterday of child stealing and assault in the abduction of four-year-old Kenny Broyles. Judge Arthur H. Day delayed sentence until Jones undergoes mental tests. If found sane, Jones can be sentenced to from 6-40 years in prison. The Broyles boy was lured into an auto near his home last May and dumped on a railroad track, seriously injured. He spent several weeks in a hospital.

Pentagon Unveils Training Plan

UMT Program Faces Tough Congress Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon unveils today its new military training and reserve plan and tries to explain why it should be approved by congressmen traditionally wary of anything like European-style conscription.

All previous efforts at establishing universal military training in the United States have failed in Congress. Foes have called UMT "anti-American," "totally foreign" and unduly costly. Advocates, on the other hand, have backed it as a method of building up a trained manpower pool which would enable the nation to cut down its standing military forces.

The Pentagon's new plan is known to be accompanied by a request for an extension of the draft law, due to expire next June 30, and by a request for pay increases to career soldiers.

The program calls for training of some 100,000 youths annually for periods of six months.

The goal is to establish a ready pool of trained reservists totaling 2½ million.

About 20,000 men would continue to be drafted each month. Youths would be permitted to volunteer for the short-term training period at considerably lower pay than draftees receive. They would not automatically qualify for veterans' benefits, and their total liability for military service would extend at least nine years.

By comparison, the youth who waited for the draft would be a veteran after his two years' service and know that his military recall liability, except in the direst emergency, would end six years thereafter.

Present law contains no teeth to compel former draftees to continue active reserve training. Secretary of Defense Wilson has said he supports the idea of assuring that six-month trainees continue with their reserve activities by making them liable to the draft for a full 24-months of active duty if they fail to keep up their reserve duties.

"RIGHT-TO-WORK" — Black areas on this map show the 17 states Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell had in mind when he blasted "right-to-work" state laws. These laws outlaw labor contract provisions that workers must become union members. President Eisenhower told a press conference that Secretary Mitchell speaks for himself and not the Administration.

KP Of The Year Loves To Pee! Potatoes

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—There's no appeal like it—the appeal in peeling potatoes.

"It's relaxing," says Pfc. Robert F Cordy, who can clean 11 spuds in one minute. After he took the speed test recently, his mess sergeant commented:

"Cordy is so good a peeler in the kitchen I'd like to have him on KP every day."

That would be fine with the 25-year-old Korean veteran, who often volunteers for KP duty.

Cordy's prowess as a potato peeler won him recognition this week as KP of the year, a newly created honor for outstanding kitchen performers. He also got a three-day pass from this post but he can't wait to get back.

"It's always warm and clean in the kitchen," he says. "We have lots of coffee to drink, and you never hear of KPs marching, do you?"

The Louisville soldier's enlistment is up in July and he hopes to enter the restaurant business.

Beauty Queen, Grid Star, Polio Victim Win Honors At OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State is not quite like any other university. Even the beauty queens and the football heroes make the honor roll. So did a young polio victim who overrode his wheel chair handicap to earn a law degree.

A beauty queen, a former football player and a courageous polio victim are among 29 students being honored today for high scholastic standards at the school's autumn quarter commencement. Some 544 students will be graduated.

Ceremonies are scheduled for 2 p.m.

Among the honored students are Miss Barbara Quinlan of Alliance, current Miss Ohio and a candidate in the last Miss America contest; Thor G. Roneums of Springfield, 1948-51 member of the Buckeye football squad and past president of the Varsity "O" Club, and David W. Carroll of Columbus, 22-year-old polio victim.

Miss Quinlan is graduating cum laude with a bachelor of science degree in education; Ronemus and Carroll both will receive juris doctor degrees for outstanding work in the university's college of law.

Carroll will attend commencement exercises in the same wheel chair that carried him through classes for the past four and a quarter years.

Stricken with polio just before he was to enter Hillsboro High School, Carroll determined to complete his education despite friendly warnings about the "hardship' involved.

Attractive, 29-year old Miss Quinlan will journey to California shortly after graduation as one of three OSU queens representing the school at the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1.

Minister Found Guilty Of Abandoning Wife

CINCINNATI (AP) — Domestic relations court has ruled that a minister was guilty of gross neglect of duty and of abandoning his wife without good cause.

Judge Charles W. Hoffman yesterday took away the Cincinnati property rights of the Rev. Leon L. Myers, 66, of Abilene, Tex., a Christian Church evangelist, and granted Mrs. Ada G. Myers, 69, alimony. She requested no divorce.

Mrs. Myers said the minister deserted her for another woman.

The Rev. Mr. Myers was a preacher in Eugene Ore.; Anaheim, Calif.; Dodge City, Kan.; and Atlanta before coming to Cincinnati in 1934. Here he was president of the Christian Restoration Assn.

Safe Driving Is Personal

No traffic analyst can know how many accidents might have happened on Dec. 15 this year without a national campaign to call attention to Safe Driving Day.

There might have been many more than there were. There might even have been fewer. But it seems probable there would have been more, because in many localities — large cities in particular — there seems to have been a significant decline in the accident rate.

Accurate comparison would entail the use of information collected year after year about traffic accidents on some given day in mid-December following a campaign for safe driving similar to this year's campaign.

It would entail, also, if it were to be completely reliable, information about weather conditions and the total number of cars in use. Safe Driving Day in 1954, in other words, was a good beginning but it did not reveal whether or not the traffic accident rate can be trimmed significantly by collective action.

Save driving is personal. On Dec. 15, all the safe drivers were perhaps a little safer than usual and some of the unsafe ones were perhaps a little less unsafe than usual. But it will be a long time before America can expect to have an accident-free day—if ever. There aren't enough safe drivers.

Chumps And Champs

Contrary to an impression made by bad politicians that politics is the art of making the other fellow look like a chump, it is the art of settling issues of public policy.

The best politicians are not those who earn a reputation for ruthlessness but the ones who get the most issues settled with the least fuss. This is true to the extent that a perfect politician might attract no attention at all, as a politician. He would be conspicuous only for his ability to get things done in the field of politics.

This distinction between public figures who draw attention for the vigor with which they play the political game and those who command admiration for the success with which they produce results is likely to be made often during the months to come.

The "vigorous" politicians are reported to be loaded for bear and itching for trouble with the Eisenhower administration. They will attract their usual quota of attention. But in the background will be the efficient, quiet leaders of political action and thought who will attract little attention but produce maximum results.

They will be dealing with a president in the White House who has little knowledge about ruthless, slam-bang politics and no desire to practice it. Every time President Eisenhower has been confronted with a slam-banger he has ended up with an advantage because he senses what no slam-banger dares to admit — that vast numbers of Americans are fed to the teeth with slam-banging.

Harry Truman was a master of that school of politics. So was Franklin Roosevelt. During their administrations, there was a chance to see why political ruthlessness and partisan obstructionism have nothing to give the United States but bitterness, deadlocks and loss of popular confidence in the federal government.

President Eisenhower was elected overwhelmingly because he never had been identified previously with partisan politics. Partisan politicos who are ready to go the limit in practicing their trade would do well to remember that their attempts to make Eisenhower look like a chump may backfire.

Those 35 Chinese Students

After it has been made clear that the State Department will not trade lives for lives, although it may be willing to trade a quid for a quo, there remains the question of how the United States happens to be holding 35 Chinese students who might be exchanged for 11 U.S. airmen.

The State Department's explanation is like this:

There were about 5,000 students here with U.S. consent and encouragement in 1949 when Communists seized China. Most of them wanted to stay, and about 3,500 were given financial assistance to make this possible. Those who wanted to go home were allowed to leave at will until 1951, when Chinese Communists intervened in Korea.

Thereafter, 434 students asked for permission to leave and 310 got it without delay. Of the 124 who were held back, half then decided they did not want to go home. Twenty-seven of those who still wanted to go home now are ready to go or are en route. The other 35 are being held because skills they learned here might be technically useful to the Chinese Communists.

They have been detained against their will. When their status was brought to light by the Chinese Communists, it embarrassed the State Department and surprised the American people.

When did the United States begin to detain aliens against their will?

Impractical Situation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

NATO Lacks Authority For Immediate Retaliation

If war should come as suddenly as it did at Pearl Harbor 13 years ago, will the United States consult Britain and France before deciding to use atomic weapons? Will parliaments have to debate the issue while the enemy is destroying city after city?

his is the big question up for settlement in Paris as Secretary Dulles and the heads of other governments meet with the North Atlantic Treaty Council.

Until now it has been agreed between America and Britain that, if any atomic bombs are to be loaded on American planes from bases in England, there should first be a consultation between the London and Washington governments.

Now the problem has become more specific. What can the generals who command the North Atlantic Treaty forces, whose headquarters are in Paris, do about using atomic bombs in defending Europe against possible attack?

THE MLITARY men, including European generals, want authority to retaliate at once. The civilian governments, on the other hand, mindful of the political effects of letting any such decision rest with the military, are insistent that the deciding word shall be given only by the respective cabinets.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower, aware of the delicacy of the situation, declined to tell his press conference Wednesday what the American government plans to do about it if the British and French governments do not permit the military officers of NATO to use atomic weapons unless given permission after the fighting has started.

Eisenhower pointed out that, under a law passed by Congress, nobody can order atomic weapons used except himself.

This is an impractical situation. For the President might be on the golf links or on a motor trip or in an airplane and, while communication might be established, it would not mean the instantaneous relay of all the information necessary for a decision.

The probability is that the president will have to delegate to the commander - in-chief of NATO forces and to the strategic air command in this country some form of contingent instructions that will enable immediate retaliation without waiting for a presidential order.

NOTHING LIKE this particular dilemma has ever arisen before. An interval of one hour may make a lot of difference if an order to destroy enemy cities is delayed after American or possibly European cities have been destroyed.

The British and French governments are under pressure from pacifist elements not to let their bases be used by Americans or anybody else until the atomic question is decided by the cabinets after a crisis arises This is an unrealistic situation and will call for careful examination of all possible contingencies.

American law, moreover, does not allow atomic materials or weapons to be placed in the hands of any other military forces abroad but our own for the present.

Will that law have to be amended, or can all military planning for use of the atomic weapons be carried on without letting the troops of other countries get actual possession of bombs and artillery missiles in the atomic category?

These are points of discussion in the conference at Paris this week.

More and more the issue is shaping up as to whether the free countries are going to allow the first blow to be delivered by the enemy as was the case in World War II. The usual objection to any other course is that it is called "preventive war."

ANOTHER VIEW is emerging among military men — namely, that if atomic weapons are distributed at strategic spots and the enemy knows that there is authority for instant retaliation, the attack itself might be forestalled.

Certainly the whole program of NATO is based on the theory that Allied defense forces plus adequate armament and a plentiful supply of atomic bombs, will be sufficient to deter an aggressor. If, on the other hand, the aggressor is given the advantage of several hours and a cumbersome machinery of debate is necessary in some parliament before reprisals can be authorized, then the Allied governments may themselves be responsible for the initial defeat.

The question is one that needs clearing up in advance so as to warn an aggressor that his attack will not pay.

Gettysburg Address

By TRUMAN TWILL

The Eisenhowers stopped by their rehabilitated Gettysburg farm house last Saturday to see how things were coming and announced soon afterward it would be their voting residence in 1955.

That meant they were ready to call it home.

It was more than coincidence that a few gentlemen with political savvy began to talk right away about drafting Ike for a re-run in 1956 They must have recognized the symptoms of Bucolic, a hard disease to stop once it gets started.

This is the second attack of Bucolic for the Eisenhowers. They had the first one when they decided the countryside aroung Gettysburg was better than anything they had seen in Europe.

That attack was forestalled by the big political medicine that caused them to take up residence in the White House, freshly rehabilitated by Harry and Bess Truman.

But all the time the Eisenhowers have been living in the official mansion, they have been pushing their private rehabilitation project at Gettysburg. It is not to be wondered at that the gentlemen with political savvy are nervous.

Bucolic never lets you go. Like malaria and undulant fever, it keeps coming back. The Eisenhowers, obviously, aren't trying to shake it off. They like it.

They like space under their feet and over their heads.

They like to flop down under the shade of an oak in the late afternoon

They like to step outside at bed time and feel infinitesimal and humble under the canopy of the universe.

They like the taste of sparkling well water.

They like to see dogs working and playing without man - made restraints.

The pungent aroma of a clean barn does something good to their sense of security.

The first bullfrog thumping out a springtime beat in a marsh sets their blood to racing.

A winter gale whistling as it turns a corner before continuing on its way makes them think of faraway olaces — the tundra, the Great Plains, the mountains it traversed before reaching them.

They like to walk on the natural carpet of the good earth in all seasons.

They want to keep an eye on their steaks, pork chops and legs of lamb from the cradle to the stove.

Something happens to them when they are snug indoors, watching the rains and mists of winter—something that warms their hearts.

They have learned through more experience than anyone else in their generation why it is important to retreat into solitude while putting their troughts in order.

Perhaps they want to have a fey cats around the place, to remind them how to be self - sufficient. Maybe Mamie has it in mind to have her own flower garden and take care of it without expert supervision.

Ike may be wanting to raise a patch of vari - colored corn, or try his hand with ornamental gourds. Both may have felt within themselves the pull backward from the chaos of industrialism into the outworn pastoralism that gives men a chance to live in harmony with the good earth.

The gentlemen with political savvy talking about drafting the Eisenhowers for the second time around have their work cut out for them. The new "Gettysburg Address" has given them something to think about.

Thoughts For Today

A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass.—Deut. 8:9.

So use prosperity, that adversity may not abuse thee; if in the one, security admits no fears, in the other, despair will afford no hopes; he that in prosperity can foretell a danger can in adversity foresee deliverance.—Quarles.

The Curse Of Conformity

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Those university professors who make such a fuss about academic freedom often fail to grasp the essential fact that under our Constitution no citizen possesses more rights than any other citizen. What they seem to claim is that because a man teaches in a college, his freedoms are increased by his manner of earning his living.

Sokolsky

The Constitution makes a specific provision for freedom of the press; yet this newspaper in which these words appear is not utterly free. It can be sued for libel; it can be deprived of the use of the mails if it publishes what the Post Office regards as a salacious article, it can get itself into contempt of court if it flouts the obiter dicta of a judge.

Senator Joe McCarthy was condemned, despite senatorial privileges, for calling senators unpleasant names but he remains uncondemned for speaking harshly to a general.

ON THIS SUBJECT of freedom of expression, I came across the weekly bulletin of the Blessed Sacrament Church of Wichita, Kans. It contains a charming recital of a great stupidity and I want to give it to you in full:

"An unknown painter, in the employ of the City of Wichita, passed by our school last spring as the school term ended. He touched up with the painter's art, our 'Safety Sal' traffic signs. We do not know his identity nor did we see him at work.

"In his zeal he painted out the 'Thanks' on the reverse of the sign, and in its place he lettered 'God Bless You," which every Catholic knows is a prayer, that says 'Thank You,' in a manner par excellence.

"When the janitor stored the signs in our school for the summer vacation, we noted the change and gave it our fervent approval. All summer long, when passed 'Safety Sal' in the eighth grade room she said, 'God Bless You.' We returned the salutation: 'And you too, Safety Sal.'

"THEN CAME registration day, Aug. 30, 1954. The signs were marched into the heavy traffic of Douglas Ave., to remind drivers that they should slow up because school children were around. She gave out her salutation to each and every passer-by. 'God Bless You,' she said. The very atmosphere of Douglas Ave. seemed changed by her cheery greeting.

"The Wichita Eagle, the Wichita Beacon and even the Hutchinson News, heard about it and made their comments. Hutchinson's television station mentioned it in the 10 o'clock news one night.

"Then came the H-bomb. Mr. Rankin of the Department of Street Signs telephoned: 'You have changed the wording on your "Safety Sal" signs. That must be corrected.'

"We assured him that we changed no such wording and that we had no intention of changing it now. It was not our fault and we did not do it. Furthermore it was done without our knowledge or consent.

"Mr. Rankin: 'It must be changed and I will do it in the morning.'

We told him that we liked it better this way.

"Mr. Rankin: 'You must conform. The street is no place for those words anyway. We will get complaints.'

We asked why not wait for the complaints.

"Mr. Rankin: 'We must forestall complaints and you must conform. I will change it in the morning.'

"WE WENT our way wondering about the mentality of people who would complain about a 'God Bless You,' sign in front of a Catholic school and church.

"In the morning we were made to conform. 'Safety Sal' says 'Thanks,' in a detached and formal manner, when she might be saying 'God Bless You,' to warm the hearts of the passers-by.

"The inspiration of the unknown and unsung painter, who really had a fine sense of the fitness of things, was buried in the blast o the H-bomb from the City Building."

To this, one can only say, "God Bless You."

This thought is particularly directed to Sen. Mike Mansfield, a so-called liberal, who would require former Army and Navy officers to conform to his way of thinking because they had once earned their livelihood in the employ of the government of the United States.

Comptroller General

One of the main reasons why the federal government spends so much is that the comptroller general does not control. He permits himself to be swamped with the audit of past expenditures. And there is a vast difference between audit and control.

The President has now sent to the Senate as a nominee for the immensely important office of comptroller general the name of a man who appears to be a merely routine auditor. This nominee should be rejected for the simple reason that his qualifications and experience do not fit the potential powers of the job.

In 1921, when the epoch - making Budget and Accounting Act was passed, the intent of the framers was to create an officer of immense power.

NO OTHER officer outside of the judiciary enjoys such independence as the comptroller general. He is appointed for a term of 15 years, which makes him independent of any one president or any one Congress. The president cannot remove him. Only impeachment or a joint resolution of Congress with cause can get him out.

The comptroller general is nominated by the president but is really appointed by the Senate on confirmation. He is essentially an officer of Congress.

His powers are enormous despite the fact that they have never really been fully exercised. He can settle all claims in which the United States is interested, either as debtor or creditor, and such settlement is "final and conclusive upon the executive branch of the government."

He can on his own initiative and without direction of Congress investigate "all matters relating to the receipt, disbursement, and application of public funds."

WHEN HE conducts investigations he can command all departments to furnish information and give access to records on request.

But all this power—or the more important part of it—has lain dormant for more than 30 years.

The reason is that the office which is called the General Accounting Office got itself overwhelmed by government accounting. This has become so detailed a job that the office has become a bureaucracy in itself.

The Hoover Commission recommended that there be an accountant general in the Treasury who should take over this burden from the comptroller general. This, as was the case in many other sound recommendations, was ignored by Congress.

AUDITING IS locking the door after the horse is stolen. Control is to see to it that the horse is not stolen in the first place.

Joseph Campbell, the President's nominee for comptroller general, is an estimable gentleman who was treasurer of Columbia University while Eisenhower was president there. He was brought to Washington a year and a half ago to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

It is to be hoped that when this nomination comes up for consideration the broad scope of the office will be made known and that the nomination will be rejected without any personal reflection on Campbell.

Then the President should be urged by the congressional leaders to get a real investigator for this neglected job.

Barbs

One of the easiest things to do is pick out the wrong size in a Christmas present.

Smart elderly folks are the ones who don't shovel walks because they haven't the heart to do it.

The News invites letters from readers on all important current subjects. The letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Letters with anonymous signatures will not be published.

The Christmas Card Senders

"Well, here we go again. Is this last year's list?"

"What difference does it make. We've been using the same list for a couple of decades."

"Can't we cut it down?"

"You want to be a Scrooge?"

"Yeah. Scrooge had warmth compared to our mood in sending out all these cards to people we don't remember. We should address them in a deep-freeze unit. Take the Amesburys . . who ar they?"

"You're not going to complicate it by trying to identify the people to whom we send greetings."

"Theres an Amesbury, two Aimsley and an Amesworth on this list."

"They're probably all the same. Don't get technical."

-:-

"Who's Hattie and Gerald Bopps? Are they the Bopps we met in 1926 in Pitstburgh in a cafeteria or the Bopps we met on a bus in Chicago in 1930."

"No. They're the Bopps we don't recall ever having met at all."

-:-

"Helena and Frisby Stookle, who are they?"

"No matter. They have sent us a card for the last 22 years and they probably don't know us either."

"This couple, Jarvis and Gertrude Carraway. The Carraways we were to meet at that party to which neither of us went when we were first married, I suppose."

"You remember Gert Carraway. Her first name is Emma. She sent us a card years ago thinking we were at the Briggses."

-:-

"I don't dig this fellow Marvin Eppinham to whom we send a card every year."

"He's the groceryman. It's either a case of sending him a card or paying something on what we owe."

"What's Ike Eisenhower doing on our list? He never sends us a card."

"No, but the papers always print the card he and Mamie send out every year and if we send him one maybe his secretary will make an error and send us one."

10-Year-Old Cirminello Quads Are Noisy, Healthy Brood

HOLLIS N.Y. (AP) — The Cirminello quads are 10 years old now, and four nicer, noisier, more normal youngsters you couldn't find anywhere.

Maureen, Eileen, Kathleen and Michael live with their parents, Joseph and Kathleen Cirminello, in a two-story gray stucco house in this pleasant residential community in Queens, Long Island.

Their life is bounded by Queens public school 134 five blocks away, the neighborhood Methodist church and evenings of homework, television and devoted parents.

To them the publicity surrounding their birth in a Philadelphia hospital Nov. 1, 1944, is apparently just as interesting as the adventures of Donald Duck, their only comic book—and not a whit more personal.

All are good looking, thin youngsters, with straight, dark brown hair and bright brown eyes. Michael has a spatter of freckles across his nose.

Shortly after 3 p.m., on any schoolday except Thursday, which is when the Girl Scout and Cub Scouts meet, the blue front door bursts open and the four children clatter in.

Mrs. Cirminello, the former Kathleen Virginia Hatcher, of Okmulgee, Okla., is a pretty, dark-haired, placid woman who can be fond and objective at the same time.

"I have a headache all the time they're home," she says as a matter of unregretted fact. "So help me, it starts when they come home and it stops when they go to bed. They get rowdier anl louder every year."

Joseph Cirminello is an accountant investigator with the Securities and Exchange Commission, He was working in Philadelphia with the commission and living in Upper Darby, Pa., when the quads, their only children, were born to his 30-year old wife. They moved to Arlington, Va., in 1948, and here four years ago.

"Before they came," she recalls, "I used to think two would be about the right number of children. But you get used to four. The doctor didn't want to worry me, so he told me I would have twins."

Since the quads' weights at birth ranged from 2 pounds 14 ounces to 3½ pounds, their health has been a constant consideration.

"They've always been thin and wiry and with lots of stamina," Mrs Cirminello says. "The last day of every month I line them up and weigh and measure them. They weigh from 54 to 59 pounds, and Maureen, the tallest, is 54½ inches. Kathleen was the smallest at birth and still is, but she's healthy.

Eileen wants to be a secretary, Maureen a nurse and Kathleen "a mother like Mama." Michael is all set to be a doctor, "because I think I can make a lot of friends that way. A surgeon."

Cook Flees With Bank Loot, Hits 2nd Auto

BUFFALO, Minn. (AP)—A logging camp cook, fleeing with $6,100 taken from a bank here, ended up in the hospital late yesterday when his getaway car crashed into another 15 minutes after the holdup.

Ole Arseth, 49, Isabella, Minn., was captured in a chase organized by George Laplant, off-duty Buffalo police chief, who walked unarmed into the Oakley National Bank while the holdup was in progress. Laplant heard a whispered warning from cashier Harold Templin, raced to his police car, radioed the alarm and took off after the fleeing gunman.

Christmas Program, Supper Held By Presbyterian Women

A huge white frame denoted the background for the "Living Christmas Cards" program narrated and initiated by Mrs. W. D. King Tuesday evening when the Presbyterian Women's Association met in Fellowship Hall.

Tables where the groups enjoyed a casserole supper were decorated with large Christmas trees and favors of small silver and gold angels.

Carrying out the "living cards" theme were Mrs. Louis Weirich and her daughter, Lois Ann Weirich, who enacted "Deck the Halls," while a group of children directed by Mrs. Frank Huber sang carols in background; a children's choir and Mrs. Huber sang "Jingle Bells" as a setting for Santa Claus coming down the chimney; Sandra Chandler and Mitzie Theiss presented a flute duet with accompanist Jean Yarian; Mrs. Milton Steiner and her children, Marilyn and Celeste, portrayed the "Brahm's Lullaby."

Mrs. Alden Gross Jr. enacted "The White Christmas Tree," while Mrs. Chester Roof, Miss Carol Middeker, Miss Nancy Diehl and Miss Patsy Steffel gave "The World, the Law, The Prophets, The Gospels"; Mrs. Ralph Walton typified a "White Christmas," using greeting cards, when Mrs. Laten Carter sang the song "White Christmas"; and Mrs. Gertrude Stewart did "Silent Night" accompanied by three choir boys, John Strain, Gale Pearson and Mark Snyder.

Ladies of the Haviland Choir sang as each card portrayed was dramatized. Mrs. Walter Hofmeister accompanied.

Assisting in the arrangements was Mrs. Sam Wald, and the family of Rev. Laten Carter participated in a short family setting of "The Night Before Christmas In the Homes."

Mrs. James Luke was in charge of devotions.

Outgoing president Mrs. Ray Stiver thanked the groups for their cooperation throughout the year.

The December group served as hostesses for the cafeteria-styled dinner.

All groups will meet Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 7:30 in the church.

Moose Women Plan Initiation Jan. 5

When Women of the Moose met Welnesday night in the Moose Temple they brought contributions to fill Christmas baskets. Others of the members wishing to contribute may bring items to the temple until Tuesday night.

Mrs. Levern Owen, senior regent, named Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, Mrs. Donald Cannon and Mrs. Leana Johnston to the social committee or January. Mrs. Mattie Kutz won the special prize.

Announcement was made that the auditing committee will meet Dec. 29 at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Johnston of 275 W 5th St.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Arthur Stark, Mrs. Wayne Phillips, Mrs. Russell Withers, Mrs. Harold Seacrest and Mrs. Paul Stallsmith. The meeting closed with prayer.

Initiation and white elephant bingo are scheduled for the next meeting, Jan. 5, when Mrs. Pauline Calderone, child care chairman, will conduct her chapter night program.

The next regular meeting will be held there Jan. 5.

Mrs. Meiter Hostess At Coverdish Dinner

Christmas ornaments and lights decorated the home of Mrs. Walter Meiter of Newgarden Ave., where the Ruth Circle of the Daughters of Emmanuel of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church enjoyed a coverdish dinner Wednesday evening.

The hosess used red and green appointments for her table setting with candy canes as favors.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Michael Binder Jr. opened the program with devotions and led the group in prayer. Mrs. Albert Linder read a story, "The Greatest Gift Unclaimed."

Mrs. John Huber Jr. was in charge of games that entertained the 18 in attendance. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. Brooke Votaw, Mrs. Binder and Mrs. John Theiss.

Each member pantomimed the gift she had brought for the gift box, and the exchange of gifts concluded the program.

Mrs. Matt Drotleff and Mrs. Robert Roberts, co-hostesses, assisted Mrs. Meiter.

Holy Trinity Church Groups Enjoy Program

Mrs. W. J. Beck was soloist Friday evening for the annual Christmas program sponsored by the Alice Dennig, Jessie Thomas and Laura Fehr Missionary Societies and the Lydia Bible Class in the Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Methodist Women Hold Coverdish Fete

Mrs. James Cunningham and Mrs. Floyd Craig were guests Wednesday when 18 members of the Alverna Koch group of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met for a coverdish dinner with Mrs. C. C. Hanson at the Ruth Smucker House. A gift exchange was enjoyed.

Mrs. C. C. Davis, who conducted the devotional program, read the Christmas story from the Bible and "The Gift of the Wisemen," by Harvey M. Chinn. Mrs. Craig led the group in singing Christmas carols.

A letter from Alverna Koch, a missionary in the Cranston Institution at Montevideo, Uruguay, for whom the group is named, was read by Mrs. Hanson.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 19 in the church.

Junior Mothers Club Will Fete Children

Members of the Junior Mothers Club, who met Wednesday night in the Ruth Smucker House, will have a Christmas party for their children at 7:15 tonight at the Smucker House. Santa Claus will be at the party and cartoons will be shown. Mrs. Richard Greene and Mrs. Clyde Davis Jr. are chairmen of the party committee.

Clothing or toys to be donated to the Christmas charity project should be taken to the Smucker House tonight.

The members voted to have a board meeting Jan. 7 at 8 p.m. in the Smucker House, and all board members and officers are requested to be present.

A discussion was held on the three projects tentatively set for the coming year by the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Gordon Shasten, president, thanked the members for their coopration during the first half of the club year.

Mrs. E. S. Huffman, president of the Salem Garden Club, showed the group how to make Christmas centerpieces and decorations.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a yule log in a setting of pine and red candles. Each member prepared a favorite Christmas food for the luncheon. Mrs. Donald Way and Mrs. Richard Ingledue were hostesses.

Favors for the 18 in attendance were red candles decorated with uins and glitter. They were mad and presented by the hospitality committee comprised of Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. Gerald Koch Jr. and Mrs. Donald Smith.

The next regular meeting will be Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Smucker House. Mrs. Heinz Meine will be guest speaker, and Mrs. Richard Horst and Mrs. Gene Dean will be hostesses.

Trinity Class Prepares Food Baskets

Christmas baskets of food for needy families were filled at a meeting of the Trinity Fellowship Class Wednesday night in the Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church.

The 23 members present decorated the Christmas tree in the Sunday School room and prepared treats that will be distributed among the children of the church school Sunday. Recordings of Christmas music were played by Mrs. Ward Zeller.

The members voted to contribute annually to the flower fund of the Sunday School. At the next meeting, Jan. 12 in the church, a question and answer program on religious topics will be held.

Presiding at the January meeting for the first time will be the new officers; President, Fred Tetlow; vice president, Bill Stack; treasurer, Bob Warner and secretary, Mrs. Richard Kilbreath.

Following the program, a box lunch will be served. The class will furnish the beverage.

Rev. and Mrs. Keister were hosts at Wednesday night's meeting The refreshment table was laid with a Christmas cloth and lighted with white candles in an arrangement of pine and colored ornaments.

Valley Road Nursing Home Has Yule Party

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Donahue were hosts at the annual Yuletide party at the Valley Road Nursing Home Tuesday evening. During the candlelighting, Margaret McPherson played a Christmas number on the bells.

Betty Talbott accompanied the group on an organ as carols were sung. Lee Webb and his Pals of West Virginia entertained with songs and instrumental music.

Santa Claus brought gifts to all the patients and employes in the guest home. A lunch was served to 60.

Broadway Lease Store Employes Have Party

Employes and wives of Broadway Lease Drug Co. enjoyed a turkey dinner and gift exchange Sunday evening.

The dinner was held at the Lape Hotel and the gift exchange was in the R. W. Kaminsky home on East 6th St.

Games provided the evening's diversion.

From Paris come hats that will delight the traveling woman. Little head-huggers of jersey, they pack in a breeze into the handbag or pocket. They cover the ears and are worn low on the neck.

Mrs. Byers Hostess To Wesleyan Class

The teacher, Mrs. G. E. Byers, again opened her home for the Methodist Wesleyan Class annual Christmas party Wednesday evening.

The house was beautifully decorated with Santa Claus candles, a lighted tree, and a mantle arrangement of a nativity scene. Thirty-five attended.

The program chairman, Mrs. Vernon Broomall, opened the meeting with a call to worship, and group singing of "Away in a Manger." Mrs. Glenn Harding gave the devotional service.

Substituting for her sister, Mrs. Joseph Dornon of Lisbon, who is ill, Mrs. Harding read Emily McCracken's Christmas Fantasy, "The Little Black Lamb." There was group singing of Christmas carols, with Mrs. Byers as accompanist.

Mrs. John Litty presided at the business session when the members decided to provide two poinsettias for the church and to assist with the church school treat. Plans were made to prepare Christmas baskets.

Mrs. Litty introduced the president-elect, Miss Eleanor McMurray, who presented an appeal from the commission on missions for assistance in the Korean T.B. fight.

A social period followed and gifts from the class were presented to Mrs. Byers and Mrs. Litty by a special committee comprised of Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Frederick Koenreich. A general gift exchange in charge of Mrs. Megrail and Mrs. J. U. Thomas was enjoyed.

Refreshments with holiday appointments were served from a buffet table centered with a miniature skating scene and lighted by candles. Mrs. Litty and Miss McMurray poured. The committee in charge of the evening's arrangements included Mrs. Vernon Broomall, Mrs. W. R. Pearce, Mrs. D. L. Rohan, Mrs. Edith Santee, Miss Martha McCready, Mrs. Harry Abrams, and Mrs. E. Rr. Grotefend.

Ike To Light Huge Yule Tree

To Be Beacon Of Peace On Earth

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lights Washington's community Christmas tree at dusk today as a beacon heralding throughout the world the holiday message of "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

The President planned a six-minute address over major radio and TV networks.

It was scheduled about 5:15 p.m. EST.

The ceremonies opened the national capital's first Pageant of Peace, a three-week celebration in which representatives of 30 nations will participate in religious and holiday observances.

In advance, the President arranged to receive at the White House the children of six United Nations employes from India, Ecuador, Canada, France, the Philippines and the United States.

Furthering the international theme, U.S. embassies and military posts abroad will light their own Christmas peace programs in coordination with the White House ceremony.

The Washington observance centered around a 65-foot Michigan fir erected on the Ellipse, a park adjoining the White House grounds. At its edge a speakers' stand was ready for the President, who last year spoke from within the White House.

The flat grounds of the Ellipse have been transformed into a child's paradise, complete with live reindeer, numerous small Christmas Trees from the participating nations, a life-size nativity scene and Christmas carol chimes.

Joining in the tree-lighting ceremonies were the Marine Band, an 80 voice choir from Washington churches and the St. Phillips Cathedral Bell Choir from Atlanta, Ga.

U. S. Aid Program Debated In Lisbon

LISBON — "The United States is developing a Santa Claus complex with its foreign country give-away program," Leland Firestone, president of Firestone Bank said at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Thursday at the Christian Church.

Firestone opposed the American economic aid program and Ross defended it in a debate.

The bank official claimed that the program "actually fosters an anti - American attitude," citing France as a prime example.

He recommended a gradual reduction in tariffs spread over a decade or two to help get foreign countries on their feet.

Ludwig upheld foreign help on the precept thot "we are setting a precedent that may save the world" by sharing our bountiful treasures. Trust in our country is developed as a result of the program, he said.

He spported the program, too, for its tonic effect on our export business. "Foreign aid creates a desire and subsequently a market for our products," the scout official said.

He emphasized that Americans should measure the benefits of helping others less fortunate by the program's long-range effects rather than immediate results.

GI To Explain To General His Failure To Salute U. S. Flag

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Pvt. Bruce A. Wallace, studious but boyish looking at 24, has a date with his general today to explain how he feels about the flag.

The Army didn't like his explanations after he failed to stand at attention and salute as the Stars and Stripes were hauled down at sunset at the Army Chemical Center here Nov. 3.

Brig. Gen. John R. Burns is studying still another explanation Pvt. Wallace made under oath last week.

Gen. Burns said he would decide, after talking to the young mechanical engineer, whether to order him tried by a court-martial or let it go at a strong reprimand.

Wallace, from Ridgewood, N.J., declined to say another word until he sees the general, a fellow alumnus from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

According to 1st Lt. Carl L. Teshman, Wallace's company commander, the private told him:

"I do not respect the flag and I did not feel it necessary for me to render proper respect to the flag at retreat if I am not in formation.

"My being in the Army has lessened my respect for the country. I feel that my service is unnecessary and a waste of time. I classify the flag as a symbol not requiring respect according to my religions."

The soldier's father Dwight Wallace said later his son was only "woolgathering" when he should have been saluting.

In his sworn statement of Dec. 6, Wallace denied he had said his Army service lessened his respect for the country and was unnecessary.

"As long as I was drafted I felt the duty to serve when called," he said. "I saw the Army as a practical necessity.

"To me the flag is a symbol and I feel my beliefs in 'the American way of life' directly. And I feel so with or without a flag.

"I respect the flag as I would a crucifix."

Wallace said his training in the Presbyterian and Unitarian churches discouraged respect for symbols.

night's meeting, had said earlier that Mr. Kerr had cooperated fully in the investigation and had assigned Deane Phillips, school attendance officer, to work with police and Csepke in rounding up 28 boys who had visited Wick's apartment at one time or another.

City Council President James Aldom said last night that he had received several telephone calls from members of the Salem Ministerial Association who said they were concerned about the Wick case.

"I don't think a curfew would have done any good in the Wick incident," Aldom stated, "but I feel that it will provoke an attempt to get a curfew passed."

"I don't see why a group should suffer for the misdeeds of a few and we as Council members had better be ready with complete knowledge of the whole incident."

At a hearing last Wednesday before Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin, he pleaded not guilty to the charge by reason of insanity, and was committed to the Massillon State Hospital for observation. Tobin set another hearing for Jan. 6 pending a report from the hospital.

Aldom suggested that Council appoint a committee to investigate all aspects of the case.

Fliers

here briefly next week, would fly on to Peiping.

Hammarskjold had planned his trip to Sweden originally for ceremonies installing him in his late father's seat in the Swedish Academy of Letters. Yesterday it became known he planned also to see the Red Chinese ambassador in Stockholm about his proposed trip to Peiping, and it was expected he now would discuss arrangements for the trip with the envoy.

The Peiping broadcast included a second message to Hammarskjold describing as "absurd" the U.N. General Assembly resolution last Friday condemning the Chinese Reds for their imprisonment of the American airmen. It was that Assembly resolution which authorized the secretary general to take all possible steps to effect the release of the fliers as well as of all other U.N. military personnel held by the Reds after the Korean War.

The Assembly backed the U.S. contention that the 11 airmen and all other U.N. personnel held by the Reds were entitled to release under terms of the Korean armistice.

Chou also repeated Red China's frequent charges the United States is threatening his government and is stirring up trouble in the Orient.

In the message preceding his acceptance Cable, Chou said the United States had connived at the "forcible retention" of more than 27,000 North Korean and Chinese Communist prisoners. This was a reference to Red troops captured in Korea who refused repatriation back to communist territory and wee released in South Korea by the U.N. Allies.

"If one speaks of the question of prisoners of war in Korea, it is the United States . . . which has violated the Korean armistice agreement," Chou said.

The Red Chinese Premier also complained of the mutual assistance treaty which the United States signed recently with Generalissimo Chiang Kai shek's Nationalist regime on Formosa.

"The Chinese people desire peace but they will never beg for peace at the expense of their territory and sovereignty," he declared.

Jets To Mark 51st Birthday Of Flying

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N.C. (AP)—Fifteen Air Force jets will flash over beaches here at 500 miles per hour today, 51 years later to the day that the Wright brothers flew their first plane 31 miles per hour over the same sand dunes.

The jets, F84F Thunderstreaks from Langley Air Force Base, Va., are participating in ceremonies at the Wright Brothers National Monument commemorating the first powered flight of a heavier-than-air machine Dec. 17, 1903.

It was then that Orville and Wilbur Wright, from Dayton, Ohio, flew their plane at 31 miles per hour against a 27-mile headwind.

The program brought state and national leaders here. Among them Rear Adm. I.N. Kiland, of Norfolk, Va., commander of the 5th Naval District, who was the featured speaker at a luncheon at nearby Nags Head.

Role Of Extension Agents Is Discussed

LISBON — Agricultural Extension Service workers in the United States are placing more emphasis on farm and home developments, consumer education and marketing and public affairs, Miss Jean Stitle, Columbiana County Home demonstration agent said Thursday.

She told Home Council Members at the Presbyterian Church that there is a growing interest in these matters, especially among young farm families.

Starting with a group of 17 county families, she and Floyd Lower, county extension agent, are consulting with these people on special problems. Miss Stitle said many of the "snags" are corrected by proper management.

"Among couples just starting to farm, finance represents the big stumbling block," the agent said. They are encouraged to grow crops and livestock which yield a quick return, but at the same time look at their farming venture as a long-term proposition," the home agent concluded.

College Doctor Sees Catastrophe Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—A jobless college doctor predicts the world will be rocked with terrible trouble next Tuesday but says he never said it would be the end of the world.

Violent upheavals—in the form of disastrous life-engulfing tidal waves—will strike down man near Lake Michigan and on the eastern and western coasts, says Dr. Charles Laughead, who until Wednesday was a staff doctor at Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.

The doctor claims a second-hand contact with "outer space' and says communications received by friends with first-hand contact indicate catastrophic events for the world.

These views led to Laughead's departure from MSC, in the form of a resignation which he said was demanded.

The president of the college, Dr. John A. Hannah, in Chicago for an educators conference, said the college had no objection to Laughead's beliefs but objected to the doctor's "propagandizing" students on a peculiar set of beliefs of questionable validity" that would "effect' adversely the quality of their college work.'

Laughead said he was asked to resign and said he assumed it was because of his "hobby" which is "flying saucers' and other matters having to do with outer space."

Sheppard

her attentive service in the case.

In a 36-minute explanation of the law, the 70-year-old judge told the jury it is not necessary to prove motive under Ohio law. And he explained that circumstantial evidence must be considered carefully. The judge locked the doors of the small courtroom before he began his instructions.

Sheppard's two brothers and their wives were in the courtroom. The defendant gave them a small smile.

Sheppard maintained his innocence and said the crime was committed by someone who broke into his house in the hours after midnight.

Sheppard was taken back to his cell block in the Criminal Courts building where the courtroom is located.

Handed Greeting Card

Before the session started a greeting card was handed to Sheppard by the bailiff. He opened it and, folded between the pages, was a four-leaf clover. A brief message was on the sheet of paper inside. Sheppard smiled and at the same time tears came to his eyes.

"You are not to recommend mercy out of considerations of prejudice, sympathy or favor, or for the purpose of avoiding what you may consider an unpleasant task or duty," he told the jurors.

The judge explained the conditions under which the jury might arrive at each of these possible verdicts. He carefully explained the legal meaning of each word.

He pointed out that to find Sheppard guilty of first degree murder, the jurors must agree that he killed his wife, premeditated the crime, and committed it with malice aforethought.

The jury took with it 214 separate exhibits—127 from the defense and 87 from the state. They ranged from the blood-stained pillow from the bed where Marilyn Sheppard died to a few grains of sand from her husband's trouser cuffs.

Six opposing lawyers called a total of 69 witnesses. The transcrip of the hearings runs close to 6,000 typewritten pages.

In his closing statement to the jury, assistant prosecutor John J. Mahon did not demand the death penalty in so many words. But he said:

"You sit here in judgment of a fellow man. At your hands might rest the life—does rest the life—of this defendant."

Most Jurors Middle Aged

Most of the jurors are middle-aged, but two of the men are not yet 30. Sheppard will be 31 Dec. 29.

Four of the five women on the jury have children. Mrs. Ann. W. Foote, dark, pretty and alert in manner, is the mother of five. Mrs. Luella Williams, a serious-faced Negro, has four grown children. Sheppard's son Chip is now 7.

The seven men, respectively are a timekeeper in Republic Steel Corp., a hardware store manager, a construction suprintendent, a railroad ticket office cashier, a tool and die maker, a receiving clerk for a chemical firm and a factory foreman.

During the lawyers' summations this week, Sheppard shifted his chair so that he was looking straight at the jury. He held a small metal object—it appeared to be a gold or gilded cross—in his hands. Uusually, he sat with hands folded, as though in prayer.

Occasionally, a few fleeting expressions fled across his pale face.

But when the state was describing him as a liar, an adulterer, and a murderer, he kept a blank, stony look.

Several times, tears welled into his eyes and started to course down his cheeks. He covered his face with his handkerchief. References to his wife's unborn child frequently made him weep.

On the night of that July 3, two neighbors came to the Sheppard home for dinner. They left shortly after 12.

At that time Sheppard was stretched out on a couch in the downstairs living room. He says he fell into a deep sleep. When her guests were gone, Marilyn Sheppard went upstairs, undressd and went to bed.

Cannot Remember Time

Sheppard says he was awakened by her screams. He cannot say what time it was.

He rushed up to the bedroom. A "form," he says, was bending over his wife. He says he struggled with this assailant and almost instantly was knocked unconscious. When he came to, he says, he found his wife savagely beaten about the head and face. He touched her and determined that she was dead.

Tnen, he says, he heard a noise downstairs, and caught sight of the "form" again, now in the yard, heading toward his beach, bordering Lake Erie.

He says he caught up with the "form" on the beach He describes a large, powerfully built man with a big head and bushy hair. He again grappled with the prowler and again was struck down unconscious, he says.

He says when he regained consciousness the lake waves were washing over his body. He went back to the house.

Minutes before 6 a.m., he telephoned his friend, Bay Village Mayor Spencer Houk and said, "I think they've killed Marilyn.'

The state does not believe this story.

Between the fixed times—when the neighbors left and when Sheppard telephoned Houk—the prosecution contends Sheppard was busy obliterating evidences of his crime, washing blood off himself and arranging the house to give the appearance of a burglary.

The prosecution contends Sheppard killed his wife. His relations with other women, the state says, caused the crime.

And assistant prosecutor Saul Danaceau suggested to the jury that it might have resulted from a fierce quarrel over women between Sheppard and his wife.

It's sensible to have some sort of mail box inside the front door. It should have a section for mail you've brought in and one for mail you hope your husband will mail on the way to work. It'll soon become a habit for him to check there.

Allies Adopt Strategy On A-Bomb Use

PARIS (AP)—Leaders of the free world today adopted a new defense strategy based on atomic firepower and agreed on the way new weapons can be used in the event of an attack by the Communist bloc.

The foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty powers set the role of atomic weapons during a tightly closed session. They promised a communique on their decision later today or tomorrow.

After adoption of defense plans drafted by the chiefs of staff of NATO members, giving nuclear firepower a place in NATO's "new look" arsenal, the ministers excluded most of their advisers from the closed meeting. Then they took up the controversial question of who can decide on a resort to atomic arms—military men or their governments.

No immediate word on this discussion leaked out, and NATO press officials would say only that the ministers had reached agreement.

The American government was known to be strongly opposed to hampering NATO's deterrent effect with a formula which might be unworkable in a major surprise assault against the West. The U.S. position has been that although only civilian authorities can "pull the trigger" and all governments concerned should be consulted as much as possible before atomic weapons are employed, that this consultation should not be made an absolute condition hampering military commanders.

Patrol Investigates Two District Mishaps

Two district traffic mishaps were investigated by state highway patrolmen Thursday and last night.

A car driven by Calvin E. Mangum, 18, of Minerva, and a dump truck operated by Frank Zehentbauer, 28, Hanovertol, collided at 1:45 p.m. at the intersection of a rural road and Route 9 near Hanoverton. There were no stop signs at the intersection, patrolmen said.

An auto driven by Allen V. Little, 21, of RD 1, Leetonia struck and killed a 250-pound deer on Route 344 near Franklin Square at 11:35 p.m. The deer, a 10-point buck was taken to the patrol barracks and Columbiana County Game Warden R. L. Lide was called to dispose of the carcass. The front end of the car was damaged.

Salineville Ruritans Plan Benefit Event

SALINEVILLE — Proceeds of the Ruritan Club's first annual pancake and sausage fry Saturday at the Methodist Church will be used for an underprivileged children's fund, President Warren Bettis said today.

Meals will be served from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Crew chiefs are Robert Cole, Frank Solak, Arthur Lewis, Leroy Orr, A. W. Shields, Rev. C. E. Richardson and George Goppert. Ladies night will be observed at the next meeting, Jan. 20.

Giants, Indians Dominate Associated Press All-Star Team

2 Teams Take 6 Of 10 Positions

Avila, Rosen Lemon Picked From Tribe

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Befitting their stations, New York's World Champion Giants and Cleveland's American League Champion Indians dominated the 1954 Associated Press major league all - star team, capturing six of the 10 positions.

Six of the 16 big league clubs, four in the National, were represented in the AP's ninth annual all-star squad, selected by 422 baseball writers and broadcasters throughout the nation. The National League had six players to four for the American.

The Giants and Indians were the only clubs with more than one representative. Each had three. Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati and the New York Yankees had one each.

The all - star team: (Batting averages in parentheses)

First base — Ted Kluszewski, Reds (.326)

Second base — Bobby Avila, Indians (.341)

Third base — Al Rosen, Indians (.293)

Shortstop — Alvin Dark, Giants (.293)

Left field — Stan Musial, Cardinals (.330)

Center field — Willie Mays, Giants (.345)

Right field—Duke Snider, Dodgers (.341)

Catcher — Yogi Berra, Yankees (.307)

Righthanded pitcher — Bob Lemon, Indians (23-7)

Lefthanded pitcher — Johnny Antonelli, Giants (21-7)

Only three players are holdovers from the 1953 team. They are Rosen, Musial and Snider. Musial made the team for the eighth time, missing only once since the poll was inaugurated in 1946.

Mays, the brilliant Giant outfielder who led both majors in batting with a .345 average, topped all vote getters. The Negro flash was named on 397 ballots. Musial had 340 votes to easily join Mays in the outfield. Snider had tough competition from Boston's Ted Williams before finally sneaking into the third garden spot, 195 votes to Ted's 153.

The second biggest vote-getter was Berra, who won the catching position hands down with 389 votes. Runner - up Roy Campanella of the Dodgers drew only nine votes to seven for Cleveland's Jim Hegan and five for Milwaukee's Del Crandall. Last year Campanella had 174 votes to only five for Berra.

All infield positions were decided by comfortable margins. Only Avila, at second, had any sort of opposition, poling 259 votes to 117 for Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals. Kluszewski had no trouble getting the nod at first base. The Redleg slugger attracted 330 voters while Brooklyn's Gil Hodges, the runner-up received only 52.

Niagara Faces Toledo, Awaits LaSalle Tilt

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Niagara University's Purple Eagles, rated No. 10 nationally in college basketball circles, headed into the Midwest today for a Saturday night date with Toledo, but it won't be until after Christmas that a definite line can be drawn on Coach Taps Gallagher's fine club.

The Eagles made it 5-1 for the young season last night by mauling Syracuse 99-74 at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and they have only the Toledo engagement before zooming into the Holiday Festival Tournament starting Dec. 27 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

That's the one Niagara is waiting for, because it possibly will afford the Eagles another crack at LaSalle, currently rated No. 1 in the AP poll. Last Saturday LaSalle's NCAA champions edged Niagara 76-75 in the final six seconds of an overtime period.

Center Ed Fleming again was Niagara's big man last night with 26 points. He played less than half the game as the Eagles rolled up a 54-31 halftime lead.

There was little action on the college courts last night. At the Garden, the Temple Owls proved they will be tough. They upset St. John's of Brooklyn 77-69. Temple, with a 5-1 record, has only a 70-65 defeat by North Carolina State marring its record.

Maurice Stokes, a classy 6-foot-6 pivot man, led St. Francis (Pa.) to an easy 8-59 victory in the other half of the Garden doubleheader.

Florida registered its fifth straight by defeating Miami (Fla.) 70-61.

Western Kentucky outscored Colorado State 27-17 at the foul line for a 75-67 victory. Oklahoma City sent out five sophomores to down Texas Christian 63-44. It was OC's first victory in four starts.

Davidson led Virginia Tech all the way until Bill Matthews scored a field goal in the final four seconds to give VPI a 71-70 Southern Conference verdict.

Fordham ended a two-game losing streak by defeating Colgate 55-51, and Harvard's foul shooting beat Middlebury 54-51.

The NAIA Tipoff Tournament opened at Kansas City, and two former champions were knocked out. Arkansas Tech eliminated St. Benedict's of Kansas, 1954 champions, 87-59, while Springfield (Mo.) State, the 1952-53 tourney winners, got it from Tennessee A&I 77-57.

In other NAIA games Gustavus Adolphus (Minn.) defeated East Texas State 59-51, and Rockhurst won from Western Illinois 72-65.

$5,254,098 Produced For State By Racing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission yesterday reported $5,254,098 in revenues for the state produced from the 1954 racing season.

In 558 days of Ohio racing, track patrons wagered $105,278,756 at parimutuel windows at eight running tracks and four harness tracks, and at county fairs running pari-mutuels, the report said.

This compared with $107,442,460 bet at Ohio tracks in 1953.

Commission Chairman Zoltan Gambos said the lower 1954 figure did not indicate a drop percentagewise, since all tracks except Cranwood and Fort Miami received fewer racing days.

Sports, Social Events Occupy Members Of High School G.A.A.

By LOIS FIRESTONE

Glance at a "typical" American girl today and what do you see:

Certainly not the adoring onlooker type who merely cheered from the sidelines during athletic contests a few short years ago.

In fact, a majority of teenage girls now spend numerous of their waking hours running around a basketball floor, baseball diamond or tennis court — making like Babe Zaharias or Gussie Moran.

A group of Salem High School girls, who probably could give a good account of themselves in a fray with the Quaker varsity cage team are some 75 members of the Girls Athletic Association.

The G.A.A.'s activity roster includes basketball, softball, archery, volleyball, kickball, shuffleboard, pingpong, and badminton.

Referee for these events is the club's adviser, Miss Edith Cope, who tabulates scores and generally keeps the girls on their respective toes concerning rules and procedures.

Miss Cope says the general aim of the G.A.A. is "to learn to work and play together, to develop leadership tendencies and to realize that learning the rules of sports well will carry over to adult life."

A point system regulates awards to every able player. For example if a girl earns 1,100 points she is presented with a gold pin; a 900-point total makes her eligible for a letter; and 200 points, an emblem.

A problem which has worried school officials but about which little can be done at present is that the girls have few opportunities to use the gym floor. The Quaker basketball team practices after school and evenings during the season now, although when springtime arrives the gym will be vacated when trackmen take to the outdoors. At present, the girl athletes take over the gym Thursdays at noon.

"Play days" with other area schoolgirls are alwyas special events. The sponsoring school acts as host to the visiting schools in these inter-scholastic games.

Not every page of the club's calendar is filled with sporting events, however. Wiener roasts, hayrides, square dances and parties for members and other Saelm High students are also scheduled throughout the school year.

Thirty G.A.A. girls motored to Washington, D.C. last June for a four-day, all-expense paid visit. The girls are planning a trip to New York City this summer.

Trojans Plan Tough Scrimmage For Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Trojans of Southern California will drive through an intensive "all out" scrimmage tomorrow at Bovard Field in preparation for their Rose Bowl game against Ohio State.

It will be na offensive drill, with the USC reserves using Ohio State defenses in an attempt to halt the Trojan ground and aerial game. Missing from the scrimmage will be right halfback Lindon Crow, whose right knee still bothers him. He will not suit up again until next week.

Frank Clayton and Ron Calabria will run from Crow's spot. Clayton has been going in great style in practices this week. He is a sharp tackler.

The Trojans will emphasize defense next week and are laying plans to stop the rugged ground game of the Buckeyes, who are 12½ point favorities in the Jan. 1 contest.

Illinois Cage Team Fooling The Experts

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois' 80-point averaging basketball team is fooling the experts just like the Illini football team did, but with a reverse twist.

The Illini gridders this season were ranked near the top nationally in all pre-season reckonings. They wound up with a dismal 1-8 record, defeating only Syracuse.

The Illinois cagers entered this season with a so-so tag, yet Saturday night will be seeking to stretch an unbeaten skein to five against invading Notre Dame. Only Illinois and Ohio State are undefeated in the Big Ten non-loop play, preliminary to the start of the league race next month.

Currently third - ranked in the weekly Associated Press poll, the Illini have bowled over Butler (88-34), Missouri (77-49), Oklahoma A & M (59-53) and Miami of Ohio (97-72).

While the Illini are trying to make it No. 5 against a good Notre Dame team, Saturday's nationally televised Big Ten game will find Northwestern entertaining Tulane in an Evanston, Ill., matinee (CBS-3 p.m. EST).

The Big Ten's only other unbeaten team beside Illinois, Ohio State (3-0), Saturday plays at the University of Oklahoma. Other Saturday games include Indiana at Cincinnati; Michigan State at Penn; Michigan at Washington of St. Louis; Iowa at Princeton; Minnesota at Oklahoma A & M; Purdue at Butler; and Louisiana State at Wisconsin.

The weekend activity opens tonight with Michigan State at Princeton and Iowa at Penn.

14 District Cage Tilts Are Scheduled Tonight

The Salem reserves are scheduled to meet the Columbiana Jayvees at 7:30 tonight, with the two varsity squads set to go at around 9 p.m.

The Quakers are favored to come up with their second win of the season tonight against the Clippers who have won only one contest while dropping three.

Coach John Cabas will start the same five Quakers he used as a first string last week — Captain Harry Baird, Ken Bosu, and Rich Hunter out in front and Jerry Myers and Jack Alexander playing underneath the baskets.

Bosu led last week's scoring with 27 points as the locals trounced Youngstown Ursuline 105-58.

After tonight's tilt, the Quakers will play Youngstown Woodrow Wilson tomorrow on Wilson's floor and next Tuesday play host to the Wellsville Bengals. The Wilson Presidents will meet Youngstown Chaney tonight.

Woodrow Wilson has won only one game, that against Ursuline, while dropping contests to Struthers and Boardman. Wellsville has two wins for the season without a loss. The Bengals are not scheduled this week.

Last Friday Wellsville came up with a 51-39 victory over Steubenville Central Catholic. The contest was featured by a nip and tuck battle throughout the first half, with the Bengals picking up steam midway in the third period and going on to win by 12 points. Wellsville's other win is over East Palestine.

The locals' last game of the year will be a Dec. 28 tilt with the East Palestine Bulldogs at East Palestine.

There are 14 district games on tap tonight as high school basketball goes into its last big week before the Christmas holidays. Tonight's schedule of games follows:

TONIGHT'S SCHEDULE

Salem at Columbiana
Goshen Union at Lisbon
North Lima at Leetonia
Greenford at Fairfield Twp.
New Waterford at Salineville
Newton Falls at Sebring
Minerva at North Canton
McDonald at Champion
Poland at Austintown Fitch
Hubbard at Struthers
Ursuline at South
Chaney at Woodrow-Wilson
Rayen at North
Springfield Twp. at Canfield

The American Bowling Congress has sanctioned 28,144 leagues this season.

Kiner May Not Be Welcome at Player Meeting

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The player representatives of 16 big league clubs are scheduled to meet here Saturday, and we have a feeling one of the delegates, Ralph Kiner, will be smart if he throws his hat into the room first to gauge the temper of his associates. There are strong indications the home run hitter is in bad odor.

What Ralphie did, as you might have read, was break the very first rule in the players' code. He upped to his new boss and bosom pal Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and demanded that Hank cut his salary for the coming season from $65,000 to $40,000. Hank recovered in time to comply.

While Saturday's meeting was called originally to discuss matters other than Kiner's strange way of doing business, it is likely the fellows will get around to the subject in a hurry. Probably right after their lawyer J. Norman Lewis asks them to please be seated. Ralph will be lucky if he escapes with a censure.

It took the game's hired hands a long time and a lot of sweat to push through the rule (in 1947) which says their salaries could not be cut more than 25 per cent in a single year. Before that, we have been told, it was not unusual for a player who had had a poor year, or one who had been traded to a second-division club, to find his pay slashed in half, or worse.

It is, therefore, a rule very dear to the hearts of the men it was designed to protect against greedy owners, and we doubt very much they will take Kiner's case sitting down. Our expectation is they will carry their protest to Commissioner Ford Frick and he will refuse to approve the contract, even though the American League is prepared to let it ride.

Kiner pleads his is a special case. He had a mediocre season with the Chicago Cubs, and he felt some of his teammates resented the whopping salary he was drawing. He believes he will have a better chance of fitting in with the Indians and making a comeback if his pay more closely compares with that of his new teammates.

Otto Graham Can Break Baugh's Passing Record

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND (AP) — If Otto Graham goes through with his rumored retirement, he's about to wind up one of professional football's most fabulous careers.

"Automatic Otto," the former Northwestern great, has engineered the Cleveland Browns to nine straight divisional titles, four All-America Conference and one National League championships. He gets his chance Dec. 26 against Detroit's Lions to make it two National titles.

Usually, when professional forward pass records are discussed, you are talking about Sammy Baugh, the former Washington Redskin who rewrote the book at the overhead game. Sammy was a big name pro for 16 years.

Graham who tells friends "I plan to make this my last year of football, but—," is in his ninth season.

But Otto, although seven years shy of the great Baugh's tenure, can grab one of the Texan's most coveted crowns in the next two games—both against the Lions. By averaging 119 yards through the air for two tilts, Graham can boost his total aerial gains to 22,086 to nose out Baugh by a yard.

For his career, through 123 league games, Graham has averaged 177 yards for a 21,848 total, just 237 back of Baugh's 22,085.

Baugh completed 1,709 of 3,061 passes for a .566 percentage and 187 touchdowns. Graham has connected on 1,365 of 2,435 for a .560 mark and 159 touchdowns. Baugh averaged 12.9 yards per completion, Graham 16.

Of Baugh's 3,061 passes, 205 were intercepted. The foe has picked off 127 of Graham's 2,435.

The statistics prove Graham has been a more effective passer in the National League than he was in his first four years when the Browns dominated the now-defunct All America loop.

In 59 All-America games, Otto completed 592 of 1,061 passes for 10,085 yards. That is a completion percentage of .557 and an average gain of 171 yards.

In 64 National League games, he's completed 773 of 1,374 for 11,703 yards. That's a completion percentage of .562 and an average gain of 183—both better than his All-American performances.

Graham said before last season he might retire, but came back for the best of his years. He said it again before the current campaign, but donned his uniform to lead the loop's passers in percentage of completions with .608.

Coach Paul E. Brown said Graham has never discussed retirement with him, and that Otto would be his quarterback until he decided to quit. The pass master is getting a salary in the $20,000-plus bracket from the Browns, but has a flock of lucrative sidelines.

He's in the insurance business, a gift package concern stockholder and salesman, and with Cleveland Indian catcher Jim Hegan owns an industrial sales company. Graham owns his own home in suburban Bay Village, and for a guy who became 33 years old only last week, is considered a comfortably wealthy man. He's married and has three children.

Bucks Stage Last Drills Before Trip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes head for California and the Rose Bowl tomorrow after staging their last home practice.

Coach Woody Hayes has 11 more practice sessions scheduled on the West Coast before the New Year's Day game with Southern California at Pasadena.

Hayes put the Buckeyes through a two-hour drill yesterday, stressing individual work on offense and defense.

Two injured backs, Bobby Watkins and Hubert Bobo, did not get into contact work, although Watkins sprinted around the field, testing his injured knee. Bobo also has an injured knee, received in recent workouts.

End Dean Dugger and center Ken Bargo, both injured in regular season games, scrimmaged with the squad.

Baker Favored Over Wallace

Pittsburgh Giant To Box Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—If Bob Baker, a 1-3 favorite, disposes of Coley Wallace tonight, the giant Pittsburgh Negro may find himself all dressed up with no place to go.

Ranked No. 4 among heavyweight challengers, Baker has everything to lose and little to gain against Wallace. Big Bob gave Wallace a decisive whipping at Cleveland Oct. 1, dropping him once and slamming him around the ring in the late rounds. They meet again in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Baker, like all heavyweights, has his eye on a shot at Rocky Marciano's title, but he'll have to take his place at the end of the line.

Don Cockell, the British boxer, is a good bet to get the June match with Marciano, when and if Rocky decides to go back to work. Nino Valdes, the big Cuban who knocked out Hurricane Tommy Jackson, is No. 1 in most ratings. Cockell and Valdes look like the next two opponents for Rocky with both fighting to be first.

That leaves Baker on the outside looking in, although he holds a decision over Valdes, scored at Huntington, W. Va., May 21, 1953, the Cuban's last defeat.

After many disappointments since he whipped Wallace in the 1949 Golden Gloves, Baker finally has buckled down to work. Since he was stopped by Archie Moore in March, he has run up a five-fight winning streak against Joe Baksi, Embrel Davidson, Toxie Hall, Wallace and Jimmy Slade He has a 36-5-1 pro record.

Wallace best known for his movie job in "The Joe Louis Story," has a good 20-4 record. His main trouble has been a habit of laying off six months between fights.

The match will be carried on NBC radio and television.

Columbus May Bid For Ottawa Franchise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus, left without a professional baseball team when the Red Birds franchise was shifted to Omaha, may bid for the Ottawa franchise of the International League.

Columbus is competing with a Florida combine which also would like to buy the franchise. Reported price is $50,000. Ottawa also would like to keep the franchise despite its poor financial showing this year.

A group of Columbus businessmen yesterday conferred with minor league President George M. Trautman and Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City Athletics, owners of the Ottawa franchise.

After the meeting Trautman said the Columbus group will consider "possibilities raised" in the meeting, but did not disclose details of the meeting.

Trautman said the Columbus conferees "expressed great interest in continuing baseball in Columbus."

Kansas City wants to sell the Ottawa franchise, then make an agreement with the purchaser to provide the major league Athletics with players.

Carroll said the Athletics would not be interested in buying Red Bird Stadium from its present owners, the St. Louis Cardinals. Trautman said the Cardinals want to sell, not lease, the ball park. The price tag a month ago was $550,000.

Kanter Loses Fight for Draw In Olson Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The final round in Carl (Bobo) Olson's successful defense of his middleweight crown against Pierre Langlois of France has been decided against Langlois' American agent George Kanter.

Chairman Tony Entenza of the California Athletic Commission late yesterday rejected Kanter's contention the 15-round title fight, ending in a TKO of Langlois in the 11th Wednesday night, should be declared a draw.

He imposed a two-week suspension on Kanter and demanded a written apology from the New York agent because of the latter's charges the fight was stopped as a result of Langlois being butted so badly the Frenchman's eyelid was split open.

California's new "butt rule" reads that if a fighter is leading on points when a fight is stopped because of an injury caused by butting, he receives the decision; if he is trailing on points and butting causes an end to the fight he gets a draw.

The referee stopped the Olson-Langlois fight in 58 seconds of the 11th round because of a deep gash over Pierre's left eyelid. Don shields, former fight commission inspector, said movies showed Olson opened the cut with a long right hand punch in the sixth round.

Seixas, Traber Gain Davis Cup Round

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert sent the United States into the Davis Cup Challenge Round again today with a smoothly contrived 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 doubles victory over Sweden's Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidson.

The triumph made the Yanks' margin in the best-of-five event 3-0 and makes tomorrow's two final singles matches mere formalities. In fact, nonplaying captain Billy Talbert said he would rest Seixas and send national intercollegiate champion Hamilton Richardson of Tulane into the fray against Davidson. Trabert will play Bergelin.

Until someone comes along to prove otherwise, Seixas and Trabert must be regarded as the best tandem in amateur tennis. They certainly looked the part in whipping Bergelin and Davidson, a pair of Swedes who had been at the top of their games.

Some experts Down Under predicted that Sweden, in fact, might gain the Challenge Round. But Talbert said his boys would win the Interzone by 5-0. Now he looks to be right.

There was some doubt as to Trabert before the event got under way. Tony admittedly was off form, but from the impression he gave in both his singles victory and today's doubles, he could have been playing possum. He was tremendous. So was Seixas, and between them they gave the befuddled Swedes little to hit.

Gordon Leather, Purity Dairy, Salem Tool, Grady's Win Tilts

Class A basketball action resumed last night at the Memorial Building, with Grady's, Purity Dairy, Salem Tool and Gordon Leather coming through with victories. Speaker's Market edged Recreation 54-53 in the lone Class B contest last night.

Grady's ran up a total of 97 points to trounce Mullins 97-61. Eddie Jordan paced Grady's with 30 points, while Ray Kelly was high man for Mullins with 26 points Grady's took a commanding lead in the first period and never fell behind.

The Purity Dairy dumped Sekely's 66-48, with Jerry Mountz leading the Purity attack. Ken Schoeni led Sekely's with 16 markers. Purity also took a first quarter lead and led the Sekely squad all the way.

Ed Bozich's 27 points led the way for Salem Tool's win over Eljer 67-44. Tom Cope added 19 points and Tom Pastier 10 to Tool's total. Ed Jeffries paced the Eljer team with 17 points.

Gordon's came up with a 49-37 victory over Foltz Flour Mill. After both teams tallied nine points in the first quarter, Gordon's went ahead to stay in the second frame. Bill Yoho scored 19 points for Gordon's with Carl Stietz and Dave Deffenbaugh high for Foltz with 10 markers each.

Frank Corso tallied 28 points to lead the Market to its win over recreation. The Recreation cagers took a 10-point first-quarter lead but the Market edged ahead in the third frame.

Bob Borton led Recreation with 17 points.

Marciano Gets Added Weight, Fewer Bouts

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Months of touring around the country, making personal appearances and laying it on at the banquet table, have hoisted Rocky Marciano's weight up to 200 pounds, heaviest the champion has scaled since he began his career seven years ago. He notched only 187 for his title defense against Ezzard Charles last September.

There are keen observers who predict that Rocky, a notable eater in any company, will shorten his tenure considerably unless he fights twice a year and sticks to the long training sieges he has endured up to now. They don't think the Brockton Buster is gaited for any extended inaction.

Whom he will fight next, and where, we are not in position to make an enlightened guess. Rocky said in a recent interview he might defend on the West Coast next March, but he probably was just making talk. Insiders are convinced that Al Weill, the champ's manager, will never consent to a match with Archie Moore, the wily light heavyweight king.

Earl Flora, of the Ohio State Journal, insists it happened. In his column he tells of the Columbus lady who, wishing to be helpful, wrote to the Philadelphia Phils that there were a couple of high school graduates in her city who looked like fine prospects. She suggested that the Phils have one of their scouts look them over. In due time she received this reply:

"You may be sure we appreciate your recommending to us the two players. However, we instruct our scouts not to sign players who are under six feet tall."

Flora suggests that, for a club which has won only one pennant in the past 39 years, this is being pretty choosy.

Baseball Group Forms Connie Mack Leagues

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Baseball Congress today announced its leagues for players under 19 will become known as "Connie Mack Leagues" on Dec. 23, birthday of the baseball pioneer.

The A.B.C.'s "minor" competition has nearly 500 teams playing in 10 states to provide in-between action for players too old for American Legion ball and too young for unlimited age amateur play.

Such intermediate age leagues operated last year in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Tennessee.

The suggestion to honor the founder of the former Philadelphia Athletics was made by the Ohio section of the A.B.C., and unanimously adopted by the national group.

Frick Holds Up Kiner's Contract

Doesn't Approve Big Pay Cut For Slugger

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Kiner probably will be asked to sign a new 1955 contract with the Cleveland Indians when he and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick meet here Saturday.

Frick disclosed yesterday he was holding up approval of Kiner's contract in which the slugging outfielder volunteered to take a salary cut above the 25 per cent limit.

Kiner, who received a reportd $85,000 with the Chicago Cubs last season, was traded to Cleveland last month. Figuring his poor season with the Cubs entitled him to no more than $40,000 for next year, he signed his new contract with the Indians Tuesday.

Kiner insisted he was setting no precedent in taking an unusual cut of approximately 40 per cent.

Reports persisted, however, that other players would disapprove such a procedure, figuring a dangerous precedent would be set.

In Pittsburgh, Kiner said he still didn't see anything wrong with the contract, but if Frick wanted him to sign a new contract, he would abide. The new contract presumably would be around $49,000 on the basis of a 25 per cent cut.

Basilio TKOs Harper

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Welterweight contender Carmen Basilio of Syracuse, N. Y., won a three-round technical knockout last night over a badly outclassed Ronnie Harper of Detroit.

Referee Ed Atlas stopped the scheduled 10-rounder at the end of the third round, seconds after a hard right by Basilio, 150, sent Harper down for a four count.

Russia May Harden Attitude Toward West Early In 1955

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia may harden its attitude toward the West again early next year.

Such a switch would not necessarily reduce the chances which now appear to exist for improving basic contacts between Moscow and the rest of the world.

It would tend to increase tensions a little and to show more clearly the essentially antagonistic nature of Communist policy toward non-Communist nations.

These views are held by responsible Washington officials, some of them highly placed. The views are speculative. They are based on several considerations, including:

1. An assumption that Russia's plugging of "peaceful coexistence" during the past year has been aimed primarily at lulling West European countries into relaxation and thereby blocking the rearmament of West Germany.

2 The reasonable certainty that, despite Russia's efforts, both France and Germany will ratify the pending agreements under which West Germany would be armed and made a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The treaties last night passed a first reading in West Germany's lower house of Parliament.

3. A belief that some degree of hostility toward the outside world is necessary to justify to people under any Red dictatorship the burdens and restraints imposed on them.

Final European action on ratification of the various agreements on Germany is expected early next year. After that there may be Big Four foreign ministers' meeting. French Premier Pierre Mendes France has suggested one for May.

Last August, the French Assembly killed the European Defense Community plan to rearm West Germany. It was a great victory for the Russians, whether or not their "peaceful coexistence" campaign had anything to do with it. Some experts here think the Assembly's vote was mainly a matter of French politics and anti-German traditions.

At any rate, there is high optimism that Western defense plans will not suffer another similar defeat in France. If this optimism proves justified, some American officials believe the main cause for Russia's backslapping campaign will have ceased to exist.

Meanwhile, of course the Kremlin may think up some other reason to carry on, but developments in the last two days suggest this is not necessarily so.

Yesterday, for example, Russia formally warned France that ratification of the German treaties will annul a French-Russian mutual assistance treaty signed in 1944. Even though the Soviet line on this is familiar, the formal notice is a fairly tough action.

Two days ago the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced in a broadcast from Moscow that Russia supports Red China's claim on Formosa and denounced the defense pact which the United States signed with Nationalist China earlier this month.

FOUND DEAD.—Sally Wood (above), formerly of Boston, was found shot to death amid piles of Christmas packages in a fashionable apartment in Arlington, Va. Police said Miss Wood, who worked at a secret government installation in Arlington, was victim of a freak accident. A shotgun she purchased as a Christmas present was close by.

2 Use Oxygen Masks To Rescue Salt Miner

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — A naval officer home on leave and a miner went down 800 feet into a salt mine yesterday with portable oxygen equipment and brought up another miner just before their oxygen gave out.

The rescued man, Julius Smith, 40, was overcome by carbon dioxide fumes after an explosion and faced almost certain death. He was reported in "fairly good shape" at a hospital.

Lt. Billy Scroggins had been demonstrating new oxygen equipment to firemen when word of the blast reached him. He took the equipment—without which the rescue would have been impossible—to the mine and descended with Chester Camp.

VESPER SERVICE SET

The combined voices of the Carol, Westminster and Haviland choirs will present the music for the Christmas vesper service Sunday at 4 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. A. Laten Carter will give the meditation and Rev. David Mair will conduct the service. F. Edward Dudley of New York City and Salem will sing.

Lisbon Grower Predicts Yule Tree Shortage

LSBON — James W. Pendry of N. Jefferson St., chairman of the Ohio Christmas Tree Growers Association, predicts a possible Christmas tree shortage this year.

Pendry, one of the largest growers in the area, said business in the retail and wholesale tree trade is unusually brisk.

He operates a retail tree lot at Boardman Plaza. George Lodge, Defiance state forester, formerly of Lisbon, is assisting him.

The tree expert said pines are of superior quality this year.

Prices range similar to last year, starting at about $2 and running as high as $7. "The rate is from 75 cents to $1 a foot in most instances," he said, "depending upon the quality of the tree."

Concert Is Scheduled At Goshen High School

The Goshen High School band and chorus, under the direction of Allen West, will present a concert of Christmas music Monday at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

Admission will be free for the concert which will include solos by vocalists Barbara Ruggles and Mary Ann Stratton and instrumental numbers.

BOLIVAR and INDEPENDENCE

Bource is completing Bolivar's eye, which is six feet by two feet. Three painters helped.

SIMON BOLIVAR, whose life presents one of history's most colossal canvases of glory and adventure, is the subject of a hundred-foot-high painting being completed for the celebration of Venezuela's independence day. Bolivar was the leader of revolutions which resulted in independence from Spain of what are now Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Peru and Bolivia. The Venezuelan government commissioned Teodoro Bource Herrara to do the work. The scope of the painting is so great that it had to be done in sections. Two engineers will have the problem of mounting the huge mural.

Christmas, Unchanged

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk reflections of a pavement plato:

If a grinning, skinny old man wearing a neatly clipped grey mustache, a pink shirt, and a stylish charcoal black suit climbs down your chimney on Christmas Eve, don't shoot him or phone for the police.

He may be Santa Claus!

Christmas has gone so modernestic that, sooner or later, someone is going to start a movement to take away old Santa's beard, put him on a diet and turn him into a fashion plate.

But do we want that? Would it really improve Santa Claus to make him look like one of those neat, crisp fellows in the men of distinction ads?

The great value of Santa Claus has been that he makes no effort to keep up with the times, and has remained jolly and changeless and old-fashioned for centuries—a symbol of selfless kindness.

It is a mistake to try to modernize great traditions, and Christmas is a great tradition. But in recent years it has been getting more and more arty and, perhaps, less and less hearty.

Take the Christmas tree itself. Any person of middle age can recall the shared joy of a time when decorating the Christmas tree was a matter of family pride. Everybody took part—Dad, Mom, and the kids.

Practically all the ornaments were home-made. Remember the thrill of threading popcorn and cranberries to rope the green tree with stands of white and red? Remember cutting long slivers of tinfoil from cigarette wrappers hoarded for months? And remember the moment of ecstasy when Dad, standing on a stepladder, carefully fastened the cardboard star, covered with tinfoil, to the very top of the tree?

Probably in thousands of homes this simple family ritual still goes on unchanged, except that most of the ornaments now are bought at the ten-cent store.

But in many other homes the Christmas tree has become so arty, so tortured out of shape, it is unrecognizable. You go into a guy's home and ask him what he's doing with a clothes rack in his living room, and he replies indignantly:

"What do you mean — clothes rack? That's our Christmas tree."

To make one of these modernistic Christmas trees, the last thing in the world you want is an actual tree. First you need a course in expressionism in the nearest art school. Then you take a stuffed moose head, and lay a piece of bone-white driftwood across its widespread antlers. Next you tear apart an old mattress, then attach the coils of springs to the antlers with a pair of pliers.

Man, you've got something—the most up-to-date Christmas tree on the block, even if you have to explain to the neighbors what it is.

The same situation holds true with Christmas cards. There was a time when you could pick up a Christmas card and tell what it was by how it looked and the message printed on it. If you can do that today, the card is regarded as a flop.

I just opened an envelope on my desk a moment ago. It held a card showing a clown seated on an old soda fountain chair and bore this message: "Ah merriment." I assume this is a Christmas card, and not an invitation to the circus, merely because this is December and the circus isn't in town.

Well, maybe I'm just getting to be a middle-aged fogy. But don't most of us look back to a time when Christmas, always a season of the flowering spirit, had more of heart than art in it? Let's make the modernists keep their paws off Santa Claus. He's perfect as he is.

HAS CHRISTMAS WISH. Mrs. Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas (above whose childhood letter to a New York Sun editor 57 years ago evoked a Christmas classic reply, seeks only worldwide peace from Santa Claus this year. Now 65, and ill, Mrs. Douglas wrote the letter which brought an editorial reply starting "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus . . ."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

PORTLAND, ORE.

It was in this northwest city that labor leaders developed and perfected the system which took the Senate from the Republicans.

Victor Riesel

It is this system, which labor hopes to use "365 days a year" during 1955 and 1956 to take the White House from President Eisenhower.

In the background was a coalition of old - line veteran teamsters providing the power for the system worked out by the neo-Democrats, the "newcomers" to the party, in it about a decade, men out of the same background as Victor and Walter Reuther. I refer especially to their good friend, Monroe Sweetland, now Democratic national committeeman, who moved on the inside of labor in the East for many years.

Labor won the strategic vote in the U.S. Senate for writer Dick Neuberger by giving him a 2,200 majority, out of 567,000 ballots cast His majority came from this city, where most labor is concentrated. Here his margin was 16,578.

IT WAS the labor vote, cast mostly after six p.m., which won for Neuberger, and, therefore, for the new labor - Democratic coalition which hopes to control the Democratic national nominating convention in '56.

The "system' is simple.

It is a combine of the intellectuals and the working class power of the teamsters, easily the most influential union inside labor. After strategy was devised — and I'll describe it soon — the teamsters used their influence to persuade reluctant unions to get into the campaign.

Thus, for the first time, there was virtually complete labor participation. It is difficult to resist the persuasive powers of the northwest Teamsters Union, since it is the backbone of labor here.

Labor started campaigning last May. It set up a "United Register and Vote Committee". This was made up of 24 of the state's top labor chiefs — representing virtually every important union. It screened all politicol candu d a t e s and picked those it would support in the primaries.

IT SET UP headquarters in the Boilermakers Building and put in charge a charming ex - government official by the name of Helen Toll. Now the committee needed the unions' membership lists. Some unions were less than enthusiastic about opening up their membership rosters. The teamsters called. The membership lists were gladly turned over to a committee of union wives.

The lists were then broken down into single pages of 10 names each. The women got them and hit the phones asking people to register. By the time Dick Neuberger was counted in, these women had actually made over 250,000 telephone calls!

The committee then went after each union individually to see that it was responsible for new registration — and actually got 13,000 new voters on the election rosters. This turned out to be more than enough to take the U.S. Senate from the GOP and elect the first Democratic senator from this state in 40 years.

Next the committee got up special lists and mailed 98,000 letters to union members, telling them why they should vote for Neuberget — and to get out and get others to do likewise. Then, on the two Saturdays preceding Election Day, special labor flying squads poured into the streets.

Each squad was assigned to a concentrated section of workers' homes. Each squad distributed thousands of pieces of special literature and posted hundreds of signs — all paid for by the unions. Keep in mind the concentration on concentrated areas. It was handled like an old - fashioned union organizing drive.

THEN THE WIVES got on the phones again. They made 80,000 calls to homes in the Portland metropolitan area, the AFL reported. On Election Day, follow-up calls were made to each person previously telephoned — 160,000 phone calls in this operation alone.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent. Manpower — and womanpower — unavailable to any other force was thrown into the drive.

And the system is still intact. The master control list, properly divided into sections, and on sheets of 10 names each, is ready for use and is being kept up to late for the '56 presidential campaign.

The central watchdog committee of 24 is intact, too. They will not permit any union to lag. They don't want the system to fail in '56. They want the White House as well as the Senate.

THERE'S A WINDOW BETWEEN 'EM — This squirrel and cat have a noon confab each day at the home of Mrs. Byron Filkins in East Cleveland, Ohio. The conference, according to Mrs. Filkins, appears to be friendly and satisfactory to both animals. Blackie, the cat, is 17 years old.

Enjoy This Pie Recipe

Traditional Boston cream pie can be made quickly these days with the help of bought cake, a package of one of the new instant puddings and semi-sweet chocolate. While the dessert may not have all the nuances of flavor that come from doing all the work yourself, it is mighty good and will save you lots of time and energy when you are having company and time is short. I find it handy to have a list of quick-to-make desserts for short-order entertaining; if you try this recipe and enjoy it, you might like to set up such a file.

Quick Boston Cream Pie

1½ cups cold light cream
1 package vanilla instant pudding
1 baked 8 inch cake layer
½ of a 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine

Pour cream into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat with rotary beater 1 minute or until well mixed. Let stand until set—about 5 minutes. Split cake crosswise into two layers. Stir filling and spread between layers. To make frosting, place chocolate over hot (not boiling) water and stir occasionally until partly melted. Remove from heat; add butter and stir until smooth. Spread on top of cake. Chill 1 hour before serving.

Two new cookbooks have lots of help to offer for company meals. Both of them have fine menus and recipes. Both indicate a new trend: the authors tell how to prepare the menus step by step. Some cooks will want to follow these steps; some won't.

The author of "Time to Entertain" (Little, Brown) is Charlotte Turgeon whose study of cookery in Paris enables her to make outstanding contributions to our own culinary scene. Fortunately Mrs. Turgeon is well aware of the kind of entertaining that goes in in cities and small towns in this country, so her suggestions are practical. Her menus include dinners for old friends and party dinners for four, six, and eight; pot luck suppers for four and six; luncheon and breakfast menus; weekend entertaining suggestions; menus for receptions and teas. Other good features are shopping lists and alternate recipe suggestions so that menus may be juggled to suit your own particular needs and preferences.

"Dinners that Wait" by Betty Wason (Doubleday) features main dishes that are delay-proof. Mrs. Wason, like Mrs. Turgeon, has eaten and cooked in Europe and her book pleasantly reflects her background. She knows good food and how to write about it, and you will be sure to enjoy her comments with her step-by-step directions. One of her recipes we should particularly like to recommend because it is similar to one of our own pet ideas. It is for Cocktail Pastries made from a rich cream dough and filled with meat, fish, vegetables or cheese.

MARK 75th ANNIVERSARY

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—Healthful living, trusting in God and loving each other. That is the successful marriage recipe of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Lambeth, who today observe their 75th wedding anniversary. He is 103 and she is 96.

Woman Found Innocent Of Slaying Molester

LAKE ANDES, S.D. (AP) — Mrs. Blanche Conzemius, 36 - year - old mother of 10, was found innocent yesterday of a charge of murdering her husband in their rural home here last September.

Mrs. Conzeumius testified she had fired on her mate after he had sought to molest their oldest daughter, 13.

"When a father makes an attack on a daughter he is a trespasser in his own home, forfeits his right to be in the house and is subject to the consequences any trespasser might expect," Circuit Judge James R. Bandy said in his charge to jurors.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL . . . BY CHARLES DICKENS

As the last strokes of midnight faded upon the air, the Ghost of Christmas Present vanished, leaving Scrooge quite alone.

But he was alone only for a moment. Then he saw that by his side stood a third ghostly visitor. "Am I in the presence of the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come?" asked Scroogr

The Ghost nodded and took Scrooge to where a group of businessmen were gossiping. "When did he die?" asked one. "Last night, I believe," replied another. "Old Scratch has got his own at last," chuckled a third.

"OPEN LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS"

DEAR SANTA:

Here is my Christmas list for you. For sister, please bring her a nice lamp for her bedroom, also a new Cedar Chest to match her bedroom suite. For Daddy, one of them very comfortable chairs so he can sit and watch Television with me after supper. Mommy wants you to bring her a new Tappan range. She says she would bake us more pies and cakes all year long, only her old oven does not work so good, and they never turn out right. We know a new Tappan is the best, so please Santa, don't forget mother. As for me Santa, I would like a big red wagon, a pair of ice skates, a sled, and erector set. And Santa, there is one thing more, if you need help this Christmas. I know where you can get all the help you need. Visit Sebring Furniture, 246 North 15th., in Sebring. They have lots of little workers who would be willing to help you deliver any of my things, as well as to any of my friends. Wishing you and Mrs. Santa a very merry Christmas, and a happy new Year to come. Your very good friend

Perry Grange Holds Yuletide Program

A gift exchange was featured at the Christmas party for members of Perry Grange Wed. night in Perry Grange Hall, and Santa Claus distributed popcorn balls to the group.

Mrs. Chester Cope was in charge of the program, which opened with the singing of Christmas carols. The juveniles also sang carols and they presented gifts they had made to their parents.

Denise Duke entertained with a piano solo, "Star of Bethlehem," and Mrs. Robert Wilde played, "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." Mrs. Cope presented a reading of "Unseen He Will Come." Contests provided entertainment.

At the short business meeting, the home economics committee reported that 12 dolls had been dressed for the American Legion. The grange decided to enter the community service contest.

When the grange meets Jan. 5 bird pictures will be shown.

Damascus

Marjorie Kerr was honored at a party Tuesday evening in observance of her 11th birthday anniversary by her mother, Mrs. Elmer Kerr. A dinner was served with 15 girls present. Gifts were presented the honoree.

Home Builders Class of the Methodist Church will meet in the church Monday evening, Dec. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Wade Broomall and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Risbeck will be hosts. A shower of gifts for the church kitchen will be brought and also canned goods for a Christmas basket. Officers will be elected.

The Rebecca Coleman Missionary Circle was entertained by Mrs. William Talbott Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Carner associate hostess.

Mrs. Owen Glassburn was in charge of the program which consisted of a quiz about the women of India, answered by Mrs. Everett Cattell, missionary to India.

Gifts were brought for patients in the Friends Rescue Home in Columbus.

Lunch was served by the hostesses. Mrs. Charles Winn will receive the group Jan. 11.

Winona

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Althouse visited their son Cpl. Paul S. Althouse at Camp Kilmer, N.J. Cpl. Althouse has since left for Germany for further service.

The Christmas program in charge of the primary superintendent Mrs. William Dunn and the primary teachers will be held at the Methodist Church Sunday evening at 8.

The Winona Farm Council met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holloway Friday evening. Mrs. Albert Gamble read the scripture. President Elmer Stamp conducted the business meeting. The members voted to give a gift of money to a needy family on Christmas.

The January meeting is planned as a coverdish supper at the Walter Dunn home.

The Junior M.Y.F. members and mothers enjoyed a Christmas party at the Methodist Church recently in charge of leaders, Mrs. Albert Althouse and Mrs. Paul Waithman.

Members enjoyed a gift exchange and each brought a gift to give children in care of County Welfare department, Mrs. Clarence Alexander and Mrs. Ronald Hooper served lunch.

When the Friendly Friends Class of the Friends Church met recently with Mrs. Sadie Martin and Rev. Pearl McLaughlin an election of officers resulted in:

President, Joe Althouse; vice president, Norman Sturgeon; secretary treasurer, Mrs. Helen Althouse.

The next meeting is planned with Isaac Deweese and Mrs. Martha Edgerton.

Hanoverton

A coverdish dinner and gift exchange preceded the monthly meeting of the Lepine - Rush American Legion Post Auxiliary Tuesday evening at the Legion hall.

Thirty - six members and guests were seated for dinner. Miss Hilda Snyder, president, conducted the meeting when the group voted to help a needy family and to support other projects.

"Let's Keep Christmas" was read by Mrs. Charles Snyder and a song "I Wouldn't Want to be a Rubber Ball" and tap dance number was given by Sheryl and Lynn Kupinski.

Descendants of the late Robert and Emma Young Loudon gathered for the family Christmas dinner Sunday in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. Approximately 50 persons were present.

The table appointments were in keeping with the season. Preceding the dinner James Loudon of Minerva, a grandson, showed movies taken during his trip around the world this past summer.

Mrs. Elma Ray will spend the holiday season with her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ray of Wakesha, Wis.

Mrs. Lee Bowman, Mrs. William McGranahan, Mrs. Walter Blythe, Mrs. Michael Kupinski were in Pittsburgh recently.

Miss Anna Sinclair is visiting relatives in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brandt and daughter of Akron were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cole.
